His condition, according to the doctors, is due to uremic poisoning. He has been in poor health for some time, and recently took a long vacation in the hope of improving his health. Upon his return to Atlanta, however, he was forced to go to a hospital. Apparently growing better, he was removed to his home. There he suffered a relapse and for the last four days has been unconscious. Late Wednesday night his condition was reported unchanged.

The committee also points out at length that Judge McClelland has spent all his life in this community, "having been born and raised here, and made his success in life circumstances, winning for himself the personal and financial indorsement of his own profession."

The following statement given out by the campaign committee for Judge McClelland is as follows:

We wish to correct the statement in the Chicago letter to many women voters here that Judge G. H. Howard had lived here many many years when he was appointed to the bench. Many of our women voters here, who may mean anything. Let us be great advantage in his campaigns all the rest of his life.

Made His First Champion.
"Pop" shipped his first string of horses north in 1877 and showed the Yankees a 2:50 trotter, Alice West. The next season he made a champion of Hattie Hunter and sold her for a huge price for those times because of her record, 2:16 1-2.

"Pop" brought out Annie W. (2:20) in 1880 and in 1883 he amazed his profession with the immortal Hal Pointer, whom Geers himself called affectionately "The Pointer Hoss." Hal Pointer with Geers behind him in the sulky directing the strategy of the race, made a grand circuit record of 2:04 1-2.

In his middle years, "Pop" was a taciturn, suspicious man toward strangers for those were the times when fixing and foul practices were held schemes in order to put over their coups. Later on, however, he mellowed somewhat and became an unusually lovable character. But whether one liked or disliked him, he was held in respect by all as the master of his profession and also as a game horseman.

"Pop" had had many accidents but they never shook his nerve. In some of his spills he was badly hurt and had to be carried off the track, smashed up, to spend weeks recuperating. But his nerve never faltered. Perhaps as he aged along toward his seventies, Pop Geers had a secret wish to die in a smash-up on the track with the thump of hoofs the last sound in his ears.

Even a limited record of Pop's notable races would fill a small book. He thought his greatest was the time he drove Single C. to victory in Toledo only six years ago. This probably was the only race in history in which all three heats were done in less than two minutes. Miss Harris M. took the first in 1:58 1-4; Single C. took the next two in 1:59 1-2 and 1:59 3-4.

ON GRAND CIRCUIT ONLY ONCE THIS YEAR.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 3.—Geers, who had devoted most of his life as a horseman on the grand circuit, made his only appearance this year on the big circuit at North Randall, July 4. On that occasion Geers drove Miladi Guy to victory, was tendered what was said to be the most enthusiastic ovation ever given a grand circuit reinsman.

During the last several years Geers has been driving his champion trotter, Peter Manning, in state fair exhibitions on half-mile tracks. In 1921 John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

a spectator at a race in which Geers drove Annie W., took a fancy to the horse and paid Geers $10,000 for the mare. The horse was used by Mr. Rockefeller for pleasure riding for a number of years.

In 1902 Geers is said to have won $102,000 for his employees. One purse of $50,000 was won by Lord Derby. His total earnings for his employees and himself in fifty years driving are said to total more than $2,000,000.

FUNERAL FOR GEERS AT MEMPHIS FRIDAY.

Memphis, Tenn., September 3.—Funeral services for Edward F. ("Pop") Geers, who was killed in an accident at Wheeling, W. Va., today, will be conducted here Friday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wallace Cunningham, with whom he had made his home for a number of years. The body will be interred at Oglethorpe, Tenn., Saturday.

Gloom reigned in the local sport world tonight, when turf followers realized that the grand old "Pop" was gone. Geers was popular here and his death shocked the city as a public calamity. Everywhere that men gathered tonight, there were expressions of sorrow at his passing. Geers is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Wallace Cunningham, Mrs. A. V. Taylor, of Memphis, and Mrs. E. C. McCown, of Pittsburgh. His sisters, Miss Hattie Geers and Mrs. Jack Goldstein, live at Lebanon, Tenn.

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN TO TURNER

its way to listen to a lot of scandal and meekness.

The resolutions expressed "full confidence in the integrity of character, the honesty of purpose and the patriotism of motives which have at all times actuated the personal and official conduct of our friend and associate, the Hon. Charles C. Turner."

Resolutions Passed.

The resolutions in full follow: Whereas, the Honorable Charles C. Turner has served Fulton county for approximately eight years as a member of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues, during which time he has rendered capable, intelligent and honest service, establishing for himself an honorable career free from just adverse criticism of his official acts, and

Whereas, his associates on the board of county commissioners have been greatly benefited by his sound advice and his untiring efforts in the interest of the county, and have the rare privilege to enjoy a loyal and splendid friendship, and realizing that his conduct of the public works department, in his capacity as chairman, has been in the interest of the people of the county as a whole, therefore,

Be It Resolved, that we, his associates on the board of county commissioners, do hereby express our full confidence in the integrity of character, the honesty of purpose and the patriotism of motives which have at all times actuated the personal and official conduct of our friend and associate, the Honorable Charles C. Turner, and,

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be supplied to Commissioner Turner, to the daily press of Atlanta, and spread upon the minutes of this board's meeting.

Virlyn Moore's Position.
Virlyn B. Moore, member of the commission, declared that while he favored an expression of confidence in Mr. Turner, he did not want to be put in the light of criticizing the grand jury.

"I think, in all frankness, Commissioner Moore said, 'that a mistake of two has been made. I think Mr. Turner will have to admit that. And for that reason I don't want to criticize or express resentment towards the grand jury.'"

"Neither do I," Commissioner Etheridge interrupted. "I criticize their findings."

"They are based on facts," replied Mr. Moore.

"I don't agree with you," Mr. Etheridge replied.

Mr. Moore continued, declaring that whether Mr. Etheridge agreed with him or not, that "the records would show it." He stated that the work on the Collins road never was approved by the commission, and that the board stopped it.

Indorsement of Turner.
The resolutions were adopted after Henry Wood had read half a dozen resolutions by various local organizations indorsing Commissioner Turner's record.

Following passage of the resolutions, and disposal of certain routine work, the commission adopted resolutions introduced by Commissioner Moore in which the clerk of the superior court, the tax collector, the tax receiver, the sheriff and ordinary were requested to furnish the county commission with a verified list of all employees in their respective offices and the salaries paid each. This was done in order that the commissioners might have all this material in hand when they meet in the near future to arrange the salaries under the new system.

Resolution of Club.
At a meeting Tuesday of the Fortified Hills Improvement Club, a resolution praising Mr. Turner was unanimously adopted. The text of this resolution follows:

It appearing from newspaper reports and from information received otherwise that one of our honorable county commissioners, C. C. Turner, has been charged by grand jury with illegal expenditures of county funds,

Whereas, after having heard from a number of our members stating from their own personal knowledge that Mr. Turner had used his own means and outfit in grading a portion of North avenue near the property at an expense of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) or more to him and that practically all if not all the property he was interested in was sold some time before that section of North avenue was quitted was paved with concrete and which has been ratified by the board of county commissioners,

And, after having heard from a number of our members that visited the section of road giving an outlet to Charles H. Collins' property and finding no part of said road paved and only partially graded,

And, whereas, the grand jury stated in their conclusion that "it is not our purpose to belittle or criticize the honest efforts of our commissioners of roads and revenues, past or present, but to present our best conclusions from the sworn testimony of our citizens,"

And, whereas, knowing it to be the usual custom of the grand jury to investigate principally the prosecution of a case only,

And, whereas, from the personal knowledge of facts and circumstances known by a number of our members regarding Mr. Turner in connection with the newspaper articles and from what we have seen of his presentments we believe that Mr. Turner has been done a great injustice and has been unfairly criticized,

Be It resolved, that in consideration of the unusual amount of time and energy devoted by Mr. Turner to the interests of our county and the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars during his seven and one-half years' service he should be commended, given high praise for his good work and a minor irregularity, if any, overlooked.

Further be it resolved, we believe that Fulton county's present board of commissioners has never been surpassed in efficiency and economy.

Further be it resolved, that the honorable board of commissioners of Fulton county furnish a copy of these resolutions, also that a copy be furnished each of the Atlanta papers with a request they be published and given the same prominence as other news items that have been published regarding Commissioner Turner.

FIVE-CENT BREAD GONE, BAKER HEAD DECLARES
Savannah, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The five-cent loaf of bread is gone and may never come back, according to an opinion expressed by John Seybold, Miami, president of the Southern Bakers' association, in conference here today on matters pertaining to representation of the association at the National Bakers' association meeting at Atlantic City.

Many cities of Georgia, Florida and South Carolina are represented.

PLAN TO INCREASE DEMOCRATIC VOTE

Further plans for carrying on the Davis-Bryan campaign in Georgia were discussed at a meeting of the Fulton county committee of the Georgia Davis-Bryan club, which was held at the Anley hotel Wednesday night, Joseph W. Hammill, chairman of the committee, presided.

It was decided to post representatives of the committee at each of the polling places in the county at the state democratic primary, September 10, for the purpose of soliciting votes for the democratic nominees for president and vice president at the November election. Mrs. J. C. Melhamp, of Atlanta, was appointed by the committee to take charge of this part of the program.

Mrs. Edgar Alexander, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Susan Tillman Moore, of Titon, spoke before the committee. The question of appointing additional subcommittees to carry on the campaign work was discussed, but no committees were appointed at the meeting.

At a conference Wednesday afternoon between Mrs. Alexander, John S. Cohen and G. E. Maddox, of Rome, chairman of the primary subcommittee of the state executive committee, vice presidents were named for each of the congressional districts in the state to have charge of the work in their various districts in the Davis-Bryan campaign. Their names will be announced at a later date.

It was decided at a recent meeting of Davis-Bryan club that the campaign goal for Georgia would be set at $25,000. Fulton county's share is $5,000. Tickets have been printed soliciting financial aid in the democratic campaign.

MISS ATLANTA IS PRESENTED KEY

Introduction to Mayor Bader, who is an old friend, and the latter told Atlanta's representative that if a new American beauty queen is to supplant Miss Katherine Campbell as "Miss America" this year, he hoped she would win.

The rough weather is reported to be unusual for this season of the year, and pageant officials are praying for warmer temperatures and a resumption of sunshine.

"Miss Boston" Barred.
Atlantic City, N. J., September 3.—"Miss Boston," winner of a Boston beauty contest over 700 other contestants, was barred from the national beauty contest here because she is married. "Miss Boston," who was entered in the name of Miss Mildred P. Renshaw, was greatly surprised and declared she had been assured that married women were eligible.

The beauty pageant swung into its second day with overcast skies and cool breezes offering marked relief from the torrid weather of the last two days. Crowds stormer city hall as the inter-city beauties arrived at Mayor Bader's office today for a reception. The mayor presented each young woman with a key to the city.

This formality over, the contestants for "Miss America" honors were whizzed away in private limousines. The arrival of King Neptune and the staging of the picturesque water carnival is scheduled for this afternoon.

To The Voters Of Fulton County

It is physically impossible for me to see all of you in person. My limited means make it inadvisable for me to attempt to send all of you a letter. So I take this means of communication.

I am a candidate for County Treasurer in the primary next Wednesday, Sept. 10. My father, Mr. Hubert L. Culberston, was nominated for this position in March, but died in June.

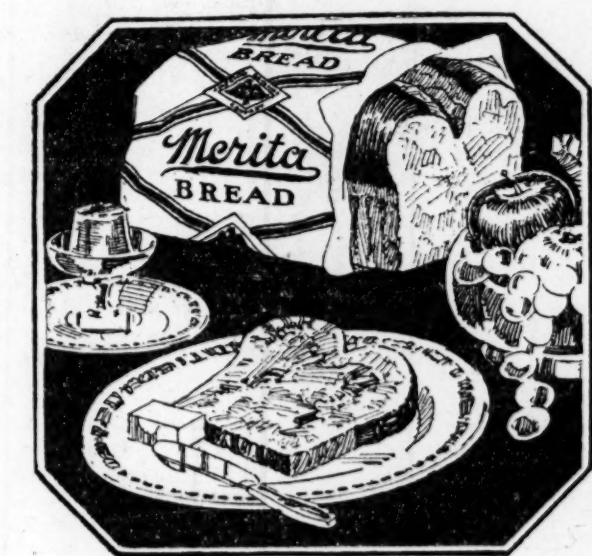

I am in the race, not as a result of any desire to push myself into politics, but because, after my father's death, certain of my friends paid my entrance fee in the primary and asked me to make the race. When I thought on it and realized that I must seek work of some kind, and that the work of this office is work that I can do, for I have done it, and that my election would be a tribute to my father's memory, I consented.

I prefer to let others speak of my competency, but I feel justified in calling attention to the fact that I have had the education, the training and experience that fit me for the work, and that when, after my father's death, the books were checked up by the auditors they were found correct in every respect, including my work.

I have no political alliances, so I must rely on the efforts of my friends and the spirit of fairness of the people of this county.

I will appreciate your support, and in return promise that if I am elected I will render courteous, efficient and business-like service.

SCHOOL SUPPORT PLEGGED BY SIMS

Alleging that a man stood at the bank Tuesday while school teachers were drawing their salaries and told them the mayor favored cutting their salaries, Mayor Walter Sims Wednesday issued a statement denying that he favored lower teachers' salaries and avowing whole-hearted sympathy for public schools.

He reviewed his activities of last year and this year in negotiating loans to tide the department through both years in the face of exhaustion of school funds and charged that one of former Mayor Key's present supporters had threatened the banks with an injunction against repayment of such a loan if it were made to the city.

The mayor recited figures disclosed Sunday by City Comptroller B. Graham West that schools are receiving 20.7 per cent of all city revenues this year, 4.7 per cent more than the minimum fixed by law and more than ever before in Atlanta history and pointed out that mayor and council, during his administration, have had no voice in the manner of spending school funds.

TWO CLUBS WORK TO CLEAR STREETS OF ALL BEGGARS

The Kiwanis club, through its president, Arthur Brooke, has appointed a committee to confer with the Junior Chamber of Commerce to take some action in an effort to free Atlanta streets of beggars and peddlers. It was learned Wednesday. The committee is composed of George Eubanks, John Westmoreland and Alonzo Richardson.

Recommendations to city council that an ordinance be passed refusing permits to peddlers within the city limits were held up when members of the Kiwanis club decided to await results of a conference with the Junior chamber.

Bandits Stage Party in House; Then Plunder It

That the beautiful Briarcliff road home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Zacharias was used as a boarding house for robbers for several days, during absence from the city of members of the family, Wednesday was indicated from the condition of things when Mr. and Mrs. Zacharias returned. Kitchen utensils and dishes bore evidence of having been used to prepare several meals from the supplies left in the pantry. Beds indicated that they had been slept on several nights—the clothing having been changed by the uninvited guests. Sheriff J. A. McCurdy, of DeKalb county, who has charge of the investigation, had been unable to find any clue as to the identity of the intruders at a late hour Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Zacharias, estimated their loss in clothing jewelry and other things at approximately $500. The same bandits, in the opinion of Atlanta detectives, are responsible for the robbery Tuesday night of the home of Martin May, 20 Briarcliff place, which was reported Wednesday morning, and in which jewelry valued at more than $1,000 was taken.

Some of the articles taken by the robbers were a platinum brooch set with diamonds and pearls, a gold lipstick with a diamond setting, a handbag with Mrs. May's monogram studied with diamonds.

The theft of a pocketbook containing $85 in money and a railroad ticket to Tampa, Fla., was reported by C. H. Everett, 52 West North avenue.

C. Q. Steele, 84 East Thirteenth street, reported the loss of a bill folder containing several hundred dollars in currency, a postoffice money order and a check.

ARRAY OF BEAUTY WILL LEND COLOR TO PASSING REVUE

The flapper of all ages, from that unnumbered period when she bobbed her hair with flint rock to the present day when she takes her turn in the barber's chair and knows an initiative from a referendum, will be presented in the course of the Passing Revue, the central feature of the entertainment program to be given nightly during the Southeastern fair.

Daily these impersonations are being developed under direction of Fred Pfeiffer, casting director for the show, and Miss Nell Sullivan, ballet master. When the girls enlisting for the production were assembled Tuesday on the roof of the Ansley hotel, Mr. Pfeiffer and Miss Sullivan were highly pleased with the prospect for the beauty chorus.

In the Passing Revue, girls for which are being entered at the fair association headquarters, 130 Peachtree street will appear also in the Georgia beauty ballet of lovely girls, with entrants from practically every section of Georgia.

Miss Atlanta Fair will be selected from the Atlanta girls who qualify for the revue, and will take her place in the "Miss Georgia" competition.

Musical comedy acts, vaudeville numbers, dances and songs of sheer beauty, will be woven among the big ensembles of the nightly show, to be presented by professionals. For these the beauty and grace of Atlanta and Georgia girls are expected to serve as an exquisite setting.

The night performance will be given in front of the grandstand. A board walk is to be placed across the race track leading to a platform facing the stand. The gorgeous cost will emerge from a huge curtain up on a stage across the track and file upon the boardwalk in a procession, it is planned, that will be a display of unforgettable color.

SHRINERS PLANNING FOR BIG PICNIC AT LAKEWOOD PARK

Special preparations are under way at Lakewood park to entertain thousands of Atlanta kiddies who annually attend the Shriners' picnic. For one whole day the park will "belong to the kids," a member of the Shriners' committee said Wednesday, "and we want them to have everything in the way of a good time that it is possible to provide."

The invitation is to Shriners and their families and each noble must present his 1924 ticket at the gate. Members of Shriners' families who attend unaccompanied must have special tickets, according to Recorder George E. Argard, and tickets may be obtained at 130 Peachtree street, he said. Illustrious Potentate Charles A. Bowen, Yaara's chief, states that the gates will swing open at 10 o'clock Friday morning and from then until the park closes, after the fireworks, all riding devices will be free. He urges all Shriners to wear the fez and bring baskets well filled.

Yaara's military band will give a concert and the Chanters will sing in front of the grandstand in the afternoon where interesting sport contests have been arranged for the kiddies to participate in. Prizes will be awarded the winners. Dancing will begin soon after dark.

Saturday Yaara's baseball team will meet the team representing Abba Temple, of Mobile, at Spiller's ball park at 3 o'clock. The game will be open to the public and tickets for the contest can be purchased at any of Stuart Mays's cigar stores.

Saturday night Yaara Temple will entertain the visiting ball players and other members of Abba Temple with a dance on the Ansley roof. This function will be open only to Shriners and their ladies and all nobles must have 1924 cards in addition to dance tickets.

EXCURSION BRINGS NORTH CAROLINANS TO ATLANTA TODAY

Several hundred people from Charlotte and intermediate points are expected to visit Atlanta today in availing themselves of excursion rates on the Seaboard Air Line railway, according to George D. Hoyle, chief clerk of the railway system.

Round trip fares vary from $7, the cost of a ticket from Charlotte to Atlanta and return to $1.50, the cost of a similar ticket to Lawrenceville. Tickets will be good on trains up to and including that one leaving Atlanta at 8 o'clock central time, September 7, according to the announcement.

WAYNE ALLEN MEETING WILL BE HELD TODAY

M'DONOUGH BRIDGE WORK STARTS TODAY

Actual construction on the new McDonough road bridge will begin this morning, it was announced Wednesday by Alderman W. B. Hartsfield, prime mover in the fight for the appropriation in city council.

During construction, the Georgia Railway and Power company announced, patrons of the federal prison trolley line will transfer across a temporary bridge over the railway on foot, cars being operated from town to the bridge and from the bridge to the end of the line.

The bridge is to be built at a cost of $45,000 shared jointly by the city, county, Southern railway and Georgia Railway and Power company.

JUNIOR CHAMBER MEMBERS TO HEAR HAROLD M'GOWAN

En route to the West Indies and Central America, where he will conduct exhaustive investigations into trade and economic conditions, Harold P. MacGowan, United States trade commissioner, will arrive in Atlanta this morning to be in this city one day. While here he will make his headquarters at the south Atlantic district office of the federal department of commerce in the postoffice building, where he will hold conferences with leading executives in reference to building business in the countries he will cover.

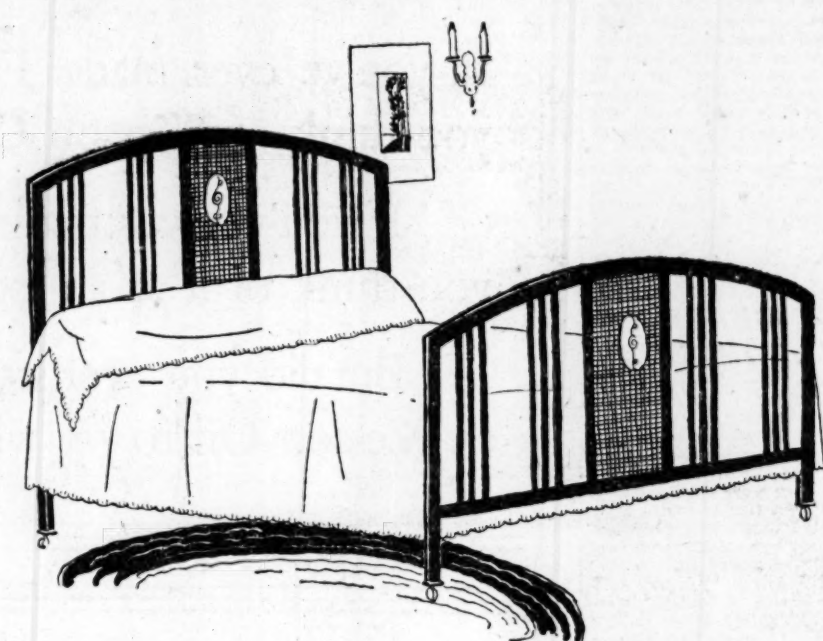

According to B. C. Getsinger, district manager, one of the objects of Mr. MacGowan's visit will be to establish relations with Atlanta manufacturers and producers with a view to placing them in touch with trade opportunities with which he may come in contact in the territory to be covered during his investigation. Mr. MacGowan will be the guest of honor of the junior chamber of commerce at its weekly luncheon at 12:15 o'clock at the chamber assembly hall. He will address the organization along the lines of the young man's opportunity in Latin America, and will confer with members following the luncheon. Mr. MacGowan will be met by a reception committee composed of President Roy J. Crow, former president Palmer Blackburn, John Slaton and others. Fred Houser, Jr., will preside over the meeting, and a special entertainment program, which will include Miss Edith Bowles in novelty Oriental dances, has been arranged.

FOURTH ARMY CORPS HEADQUARTERS MOVED

Fourth army corps headquarters, formerly located on the second floor of the Red Rock building, are now located on the fourth floor of the Glenn building, corner of Spring and Marietta streets, it was learned Wednesday at the office of Colonel A. E. Williams, chief of staff.

Headquarters of the fourth corps area, from which Major General David C. Shanks directs military operations in Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, North and South Carolina and Tennessee, will remain in the Red Rock building, where they have been located since 1923. Colonel Williams said.

Colonel Williams states that the move was made both to provide more space and also to furnish a more centrally located building for the army correspondence course and other official duties.

RESTLESS PIGEON CAUSE OF BURGLAR HUNT BY POLICE

After having stealthily crept up and surrounded "burglars" at work in a Greenwood avenue residence, and failing to find them, having battered down the door, Call Officers Duncan and Chewing were considerably surprised, and not a little startled, when a pigeon whirled in a circle around their heads and out the door.

Officers were called early Wednesday morning by tenants of the second floor of the house, who stated that the pigeon of the first floor had moved part of their furniture from the house during the day, and that landlady was stealing what was left up such deficit as the thieves had made. While on guard the front and the other rear door, they called on the thieves to surrender. Receiving no reply but a repetition of the mysterious noises, the door was broken down, and the noise flew out.

Kellogg's Bran delights father by bringing health to children

Poor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat ordinary bran. They didn't like them. Most folks don't. Then their father tried Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. What a difference! He tells the story in his letter:

"Dear Sirs: I wish to express my appreciation of your krumbled bran, which I have used for my children this summer. We had a great deal of trouble with them through constipation, and bran had been the most satisfactory remedy but they could not be induced to take the old variety, because they disliked them so. They enjoy the krumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge. No one whose children have not been troubled in this way can appreciate the relief there is in having their bowels move regularly. (The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It should not be neglected. But do not try half-way measures in seeking relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. And it takes ALL bran to be 100% effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. The flavor is delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes on every package. It will bring you health. Begin eating it today. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

John T. Boffeuillet Sounds Own Political Death Knell In Tissue of Fabrications and Demagoguery

True to form as in case of all political candidates with defeat staring them in the face, Mr. Boffeuillet, after nine weeks of long delay and silence, ceases his labors for The Atlanta Journal long enough to tell us that he is the man to be elected as his successor on the Public Service Commission. He tells us that he is against all big corporations and in favor of the small ones, that he has voted No on all occasions, without rhyme or reason for so doing. He says he voted against increased rates for the Bell Telephone Company, in which he filed a dissent that attracted marked attention in the State of Mississippi. This probably accounts for the fact that the attorney using Mr. Boffeuillet's dissent lost the case in which it was used. He did file a statement in the case referred to along with statements on the same case by former Chairman Candler and the Commission, each disagreeing with his. To read the one by Mr. Boffeuillet in the light of an intelligent discussion of the subject referred to, is to laugh. I have read the three statements just referred to and his deals in generalities clearly indicating an absolute lack of knowledge of anything about the case.

This was four years ago, and not one effort has been put forth to reduce rates of the Bell Telephone Company. A reduction has been made, but it did not result from any effort on the part of Mr. Boffeuillet. He tells us that he voted "No" for all increases for the Georgia Railway and Power Company, four and six years ago. I challenge him to name one effort on his part to reduce any of the rates thus approved. Decreases have come, but they did not originate in the busy mind of Mr. Boffeuillet.

He says he has voted five times against the surcharge on sleeping and parlor cars. His last statement on this subject gave only four votes against this surcharge. The truth is he voted for the surcharge and I challenge him to disprove it by the record in his office or by the concurrent corroboration of his fellow Commissioners. He admits voting to maintain lower rates on the West Point, Western and Atlantic and Georgia Railroads and that he voted to maintain lower rates at thirty different large shipping centers and against twenty-one hundred small shipping points, to the great hurt and injury of the rural and agricultural sections of Georgia. When the general rate investigation was passed upon by the Commission, he said he favored a reduction that would have lowered rates to all points in Georgia. I challenge the truth of this statement and dare him to produce a single rate schedule of any sort he has ever proposed affecting freight rates in Georgia. His statement, "I favored giving the small towns equal advantage with the large cities," is an absolute misstatement of facts. His statement, "I have advocated reduced rates on brick, lumber, sand, gravel, etc.," is also a misstatement of facts. I challenged him nine weeks ago for an explanation of why he hasn't voted for cases now pending before the Commission proposing a reduction in fertilizer rates, rates on sand and gravel, and rates on agricultural limestone, which he could have done the first of this year and had it been done would have resulted in a saving of approximately seven hundred thousand dollars to farmers and citizens of Georgia generally during the year 1924.

He boasts loud and loud of his devotion to official duties. With all the space consumed by him in his statement, he doesn't tell us of drawing a large salary from The Atlanta Journal, which under the Law has expressly prohibited from doing. His articles in The Atlanta Journal call for more space and require more time in their preparation than is consumed by other daily newspaper writers who make no pretense of doing anything else, which is true in Mr. Boffeuillet's case, and in one case that I have in mind each a writer is paid, according to reliable information, Five Thousand Dollars per year. No man of reasonable intelligence can read Mr. Boffeuillet's newspaper articles and believe for a moment that he can do anything else, and, in point of fact, he does nothing else. His position on matters of freight rates have been of primary consideration for Macon and

CHARTER IS SOUGHT FOR COOLIDGE CLUB

As the first step looking toward launching of a state-wide campaign in the interest of the Coolidge-Jawett ticket, a petition, signed by a number of prominent Georgia republicans, has been filed in Fulton superior court, asking a charter for the "Georgia Coolidge Club."

Among names appearing on the petition are David Woodward, H. S. Hastings, Norman Coolidge, Charles A. Wickersham, W. A. Carlisle, A. E. Sartain, W. S. Witham, Sr., J. D. Jarrette, Charles M. Mashburn, J. M. Van Hartlingen and G. H. Bray. As many leaders in the Coolidge movement are not in Atlanta at present, no definite plans for organization have yet been perfected, but it was said Wednesday that a meeting would be called in Atlanta probably within the next week, and permanent state officers elected, to consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. At present, W. R. Tucker is acting as secretary of the temporary organization. Mr. Tucker is also vice chairman of the republican state central committee of Georgia.

The petition designates Atlanta as headquarters for the "Georgia Coolidge Club." Leaders in the movement said it was their intention to establish branch clubs in every county in the state, and a vigorous campaign will be waged throughout the state prior to the November elections.

Plan for $1,500,000 Terminal for Engines Of Southern Revealed

Plans for a new $1,500,000 engine and coach-cleaning terminal for the Southern Railway, near the intersection of North avenue and Marietta street, were revealed Wednesday in a petition by the railway company to the mayor and general council for permission to build six new railroad tracks in North avenue, near the Southern Railway property between North avenue, Gray and Johns streets.

The petition is to be considered by the council street committee, Friday, September 12.

The proposed cleaning terminal is entirely separate from the new $750,000 locomotive shops, for construction of which at the present all arrangements have been made.

Officials of the company said Wednesday they were not prepared to make any statement at all concerning the prospective $1,500,000 development, because the plans are not fully matured.

GOOD YEAR

Opportunity School Ready for Opening On Monday Morning

Offering classes in practically every subject, and with many special classes for women, the Atlanta Opportunity school, 10 1-2 West Mitchell street, has completed preparations for the year's opening on Monday. Registration at the school started this week, and a large number registered each day, with Tuesday leading with more than 100.

A registration fee of $1 is the only charge made by the school, which is operated by funds appropriated by the city, county, and state, with federal aid for vocational training. The school is not in the nature of a primary school, or is it a school to which students may go to pass the time.

Although the institution furnishes an opportunity for the employed or temporarily unemployed to receive advanced education along their chosen line of work, the institution furnishes the average stenographer is well versed in shorthand and typewriting, but knows little of the operation of multigraphs, dictaphones and other machines used in many offices. She may learn that at the Opportunity school.

Special classes will be offered women in trade sewing, trade millinery, and trade beauty culture, students in the beauty culture classes being limited to those over 18 years of age. The school is open to all, and teach students only trade work, and are not for the purpose of instructing students in domestic work.

Classes have been arranged to give working students opportunities to attend before starting to work, during the lunch hour, or after work, and will be conducted between 7:30 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock afternoons.

4 GRAZE DEATH AS AUTOMOBILE TURNS TURTLE

Four persons narrowly escaped serious injury and possible death Wednesday afternoon when the automobile in which they were en route from Macon to Atlanta turned turtle when forced from the road by another machine about two miles north of Hampton. Occupants of the wrecked car, which was driven by Virgil Gibson, of the Macon Telegraph, were his wife, daughter, Miss Yvonne Gibson, and a nephew, Thomas Mitchell, of 125 East Ninth street, Atlanta.

The accident occurred, according to reports by Gibson, when another machine attempting to pass his car on a narrow stretch of road, skidded, forcing him to the side of the road. In an effort to avoid a collision, Gibson drove too near the edge of the road, and his machine slipped over an embankment, turning completely over. All four occupants of the machine were pinned under the auto, which came to rest upside down, with the wheels pointing straight up. That all escaped with slight injuries was due to the fact that they were thrown into a narrow ditch, the sides of which held the machine off their bodies.

Members of the Gibson party were extricated by passing motorists, and brought to Atlanta. The driver of the other machine gave his address as Los Angeles, and furnished witnesses with his registration card in the American Automobile association, of which he claimed to be a member.

SAVANNAH POWER COMPANY TO ISSUE $250,000 IN STOCK

The Savannah Electric & Power company, of Savannah, has filed application with the Georgia public service commission for permission to issue $250,000 worth of first preferred debenture stock, it was announced by the commission Wednesday.

The stock is to be used, according to the petition, for betterment of the company's properties and acquisition of additional properties. Hearing has been set for September 30.

SIMS WILL INVADE KEY'S HOME WARD ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Mayor Walter Sims will make his first speech in his opponent's home ward when he addresses an open air mass meeting at the residence of J. L. Warman, 70 Angier avenue, fourth ward, at 8 o'clock Friday night, he announced Wednesday. The first "Sims' rally" was in the twelfth, the home ward of Alderman J. H. Bachman, manager of the Key campaign for mayor. Mr. Key resides in the fourth ward.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. H. E. MADDUX

Funeral services for Mrs. Leila D. Maddux, wife of Henry E. Maddux, of the Fred S. Stewart shoe company who died Monday at the residence, 112 Iverson street, were held Wednesday morning from the residence, with Rev. J. W. Veach, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Crest Lawn cemetery, with Barclay & Brandon in charge.

Mrs. Maddux, who was 38 years old, had resided in Atlanta for several years, and was prominent in church and civic activities here. She was chairman of the teachers' lunch committee of the Edgewood Parent-Teacher association, of which organization she had been a member for four years. In addition to her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Gladys Maddux.

SLATON WILL ADDRESS ATLANTA CREDIT MEN

Former Governor John M. Slaton will be principal speaker at the first fall meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, which will be held at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the new chamber of commerce cafe. Mr. Slaton will speak on "What Shall We Do With Prosperity?" The regular meeting will be preceded by a dinner, and other features will include announcement of committee and plans for the new association year.

ERROR IS CORRECTED IN PRIMARY TICKET

Chairman G. E. Maddox, of the subcommittee of the state democratic executive committee, announced Wednesday that he has sent instructions to ordinaries in Georgia to consider votes cast for "Railroad Commissioner" in the September primary as cast for "Public Service Commissioner."

The name of the commission was changed by an act of the general assembly four years ago, but through an error, candidates for the commission were listed on the official ballot sent to the ordinaries as the "Railroad Commission." Chairman Maddox pointed out that this was the only way to correct the error, as it was too late to change the ballot.

The meeting of the subcommittee, which was scheduled to be held at the capitol Wednesday, failed to materialize because of the lack of a quorum, only four of the nine members being present.

Those committee members present placed themselves on record as favoring the movement to organize Davis-Bryan clubs throughout the state, and urged all members of the state executive committee to cooperate in formation of clubs in their localities.

DR. F. W. NORWOOD TO PREACH FRIDAY AT FIRST BAPTIST

Dr. F. W. Norwood, noted preacher of the City Temple in London, will reach Atlanta Friday morning from New York and will speak at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock Friday night on world conditions. Dr. Norwood comes to Atlanta under auspices of the Atlanta Baptist council.

He will conduct a round table discussion at the First Baptist church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. All ministers of the city and lay workers are invited. At night he will deliver an address to the public. There will be no collection.

Dr. Norwood is in America for a brief visit to the centers of population. Atlanta is the only city which he will visit in the south.

If you've ever made French dressing or mayonnaise with it you think of Wesson Oil as choice salad oil. It is.

If you've ever made biscuit or pie crust with Wesson Oil you think of it as an excellent shortening. It is.

But did you ever stop to think that you need a fat as good as Wesson Oil to fry with? You do.

It is—really—a mistake to suppose that "any fat is good enough to fry with". Of course you can fry with any fat but if you want fried food as good to eat and as wholesome as fried food can be you've got to put just as good a fat into your frying pan as you would put into salad dressing, biscuit or anything else you were going to eat.

Frying with Wesson Oil is not an extravagance. After you've tasted it you wouldn't much care if it was.

:: The Luxury of Love :: BY VIOLET DARE

CHAPTER XVI.
Closing Love's Door.

"I don't believe it!" Vera Atwood exclaimed flatly when, finding Mary alone and in tears, she found out what Camilla had said. "That's perfect nonsense. Bruce Gillian is in love with you; a blind man could see that! Camilla's horribly jealous. She doesn't want you to think he cares for you. How in the world she got him to propose to her I don't understand. She's a sneaky thing, and I wouldn't believe anything she said under oath. Now, I'm going to Bruce Gillian."

"You're going to do nothing of the kind!" Mary interrupted sternly. "I won't have it. Vera, if you dare—"

She had never confided in any woman since the memorable night when she had poured out her heart to Camilla. But now for an instant she considered telling Vera Atwood all the truth—the truth about the night of Neale Phillips' murder, the truth about the night when Bruce Gillian had begged her to elope with him. What a comfort to pour out her heart to a woman who would sympathize and understand.

But Vera would not understand! Kind-hearted, affectionate though she certainly was, she was just as certainly a gossip. She wouldn't mean to betray Mary's confidences. But some afternoon when she was taking a Turkish bath, or play-nine holes of golf with a woman friend, mention would be made of Mary's name, and out would come the secrets. Mary knew it perfectly, and instead of confiding in her, remained silent.

"Well, of course, if you don't want me to, I won't," promised Vera reluctantly, as Mary paused. "But I think it's a damned shame. Why, he's probably just eating his heart out for you. Don't tell me he doesn't want to see you; I know better."

She left the room abruptly, and Mary, rising slowly, walked out to the arched balcony that opened from her room. The gardens, then the deep blue of Long Island sound, lay before her. Seated in a huge wicker chair, she leaned back and stared straight before her, trying hard not to think of the man who perhaps had been crippled in saving her life.

She was still sitting there at sunset when Nicel Cavendish joined her. His solicitude touched her heart; he was so eager for her recovery, so earnest in his desire to do something that would hasten her recovery.

"But I'm quite all right, truly, Nicel," Mary assured him. "I just feel rather shaky and awfully nervous." She said nothing of the vision that anyway. I've received a cablegram that takes me back to England at once. I've been in Canada for the last year, you know; as a matter of fact, I've never spent much time at home. But I've got to sail on the Berengaria tomorrow morning. My father was killed in the hunting field yesterday."

"Bruce loves you," insisted Camilla.

Swift, deep pity swept over her; she laid both hands in his, forgetting herself in sympathy for him. In that moment she did not grasp the meaning of the event for herself.

"Oh, Nicel dear, I am so sorry,"

WHAT A WOMAN SHOULD DO WHEN SHE IS WEAK AND NERVOUS

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN HAVE SURPRISINGLY INCREASED THEIR STRENGTH, ENERGY AND ENDURANCE IN TWO WEEKS TIME BY THIS SIMPLE EXPERIMENT.

On account of the terrible weakness, nervousness and alarming symptoms, which are often produced by iron starvation of the blood, frequently the sufferer never suspects the real cause of her trouble but thinks she has some other ailment. As a result of iron starvation you may suffer from headaches, dizziness, shortness of breath or heart palpitation, pains across the back, loss of memory, weak willpower, melancholy or the "blues," disturbed digestion, loss of appetite, sleepless nights, night sweats and so on. In such cases do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration but eat more spinach and green vegetables and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while and see what a difference it makes. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, while organic iron like Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Beware of substitutes. Look for the name "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—(adv.)

ONLY 4 ARE KILLED ON VIRGIN ISLANDS

Washington, September 3.—A comprehensive account of the hurricane which swept the Virgin Islands last Thursday night, received today from Captain Philip Williams, the naval governor, minimized previous reports of casualties and property damage. It declared "no casualties were reported in St. Thomas beyond minor injuries and exposure," while St. John, chief sufferer of the American island group, escaped with four inhabitants killed, one missing and a considerable number injured.

While no complete estimate has been made of the extent of the property damage to St. John, Captain Williams said, between 300 and 400 houses of the poorer people were destroyed. Reports from the island of St. Croix indicate that it escaped without damage.

"During the night of Thursday, August 28," the report said, "the Virgin Islands were swept by a hurricane. It originated in the windward islands. Trinidad, St. John and St. Croix, which, with St. Thomas comprise the Virgin Islands of the United States, were warned by St. Thomas of the approaching storm."

TEN LA FOLLETTE MEN WIN IN WISCONSIN

Milwaukee, September 3.—Ten of the present Wisconsin congressmen, all endorsed by Senator Robert La Follette, were re-nominated at yesterday's primary on the republican ticket.

Only in the Fifth district, now represented by Victor L. Berger, socialist, is a seeking re-election did those republicans opposed to the Wisconsin senator succeed in nominating their candidate. In that district E. A. Braun, over Ernest Bruncken.

The other successful nominees, all incumbents, are: Henry A. Cooper, Otto S. Volz, John M. Nelson, J. C. Schaefer, Florian Lampert, Joseph D. Beck, E. M. Browne, George J. Schneider, James A. Frear and H. S. Paeyer.

Governor Blaine was re-nominated on the republican ticket at yesterday's primary over A. R. Hirst and George F. Comings by a plurality estimated to run between 60,000 and 70,000 votes.

RAIL LABOR BOARD IS GIVEN ATTORNEY

Chicago, September 3.—Weymouth Kirkland, Chicago attorney, today was designated by the United States department of justice to represent the railroad labor board in its intended litigation for recognition of its alleged right of compel attendance and testimony of certain witnesses.

Some 90 general chairmen and grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen have disregarded subpoenas served by the board, denying the jurisdiction of the board and maintaining that they stood upon their constitutional rights. The board maintained that the transportation act empowered it to require supplies were immediately shipped to that island.

Captain Williams recommended that warning be given in the United States against solicitation for relief of hurricane sufferers in the Virgin Islands by unauthorized persons, suggesting to that end that the Red Cross be authorized to "solicit and receive all contributions."

Hold-Up of Train Foiled When Plan Is Found in Note

Meade, Kansas, September 3.—A note telling of a plan to rob the Golden State Limited, Rock Island train from Chicago to Los Angeles, found in a garage 300 miles from here, resulted in a sheriff's squad frustrating the hold-up here last night.

Two deputies were shot and persons fatally wounded in a battle with three bandits, one of whom was captured. The others escaped in an automobile pursued by posses of officers, railroad men and citizens.

Ralph Jenkins, special agent of the Rock Island, said he understood the mail car contained mail worth $250,000.

The note, found in a garage in Rossville, near Topeka, Monday night, shortly after three men had stopped for gasoline, was at first considered a hoax, but late Tuesday, on the possibility that it might be of value, was turned over to Rock Island officials in Topeka.

Last night when the train came into Meade, Sheriff Earl Lepper, of Meade county, and a score of deputies were hidden in a box car.

When two of the robbers demanded that the engineer and fireman hold up their hands, the officers appeared and the robbers were seen to fall, but he escaped with another member of the trio.

Alonso Plazo, believed by officers to be one of the bandits, was arrested as he was climbing off of the blind baggage.

COOLIDGE ASKED TO INDORSE PLAN FOR NEGRO NATION

Washington, September 3.—President Coolidge was asked today by a committee representing the Universal Negro Improvement association to sanction the movement for the founding of an independent negro nation in Africa as a means of lessening "the terrible friction between the races in this country that may eventually threaten American civilization."

Petitioners which the committee said were signed by 4,000,000 negroes of the United States asking the president to direct the state department to facilitate the migration of negroes to Africa were presented. The petition also protested against treatment accorded Marcus Garvey, president general of the association, and against the treatment said to have been accorded its representatives by United States Minister Hood to Liberia.

Passenger Steamer From South Africa Docks at Savannah

Savannah, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—For the first time in decades, a vessel with passengers direct from South Africa arrived in the port of Savannah today, bringing a number who left this afternoon for Washington, Baltimore and New York. The vessel is an American steamer, the Eastern Glen, of 10,000 tonnage, and had in addition to passengers and cargo, many canaries, finches and several monkeys. A number of chameleons, for purchasers in this country, all died en route. There will be regular sailings from Savannah to South Africa.

Healthy, Happy Children Is Mother's Greatest Joy

New Way to Take Cod Liver Oil—Greatest Tonic and Builder of Firm Flesh and Sturdy Bones in the World.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets

Of course, all mothers—and grandmothers too for that matter—know that the greatest builder of firm, healthy flesh in thin, puny, run down children is cod liver oil, and especially where there are signs of Rickets.

But here's something every mother doesn't know—Cod Liver Oil helps to make strong, healthy bones—and even helps to make better teeth.

Yes, it's true: Doctors know it. Dentists know it—chemists know it.

And now here's another surprise! No more will the kiddies have to take the vile, nasty tasting, evil smelling oil that nine times in ten disturbs their sensitive stomachs and almost turns them inside out.

Never again! Thank goodness, will they even have to smell the vile stuff, for now science has given us—and people who keep up with the times are taking—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

So now you can go ahead and make the sickly youngsters strong and well—make the puny one sturdy and full of pep—make the skinny one put on good solid flesh—and if any one of them has Rickets you can conquer that too.

Mother: Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets for 30 days if any of your children aren't up to par. You'll be surprised at the quick help they will give them, and if you aren't satisfied with results, Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., E. H. Cone, Inc., or the druggist you purchased them from will return your money, one New Jersey boy gained 11½ pounds in 7 weeks. Be sure and get the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.—(adv.)

TWO NEGROES HELD AFTER AUTO CRASH NEAR COVINGTON

Covington, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Bud Williams, who lives about a mile from Social Circle, was run over and injured seriously this afternoon by an automobile in which Dolphin Watson and Harry Stewart, negroes from Atlanta, were riding. The car turned over on Mrs. Williams and the negroes fled, leaving her pinned beneath the wreckage.

A white man by the name of Digby took the negroes to Rutledge, where they were arrested by Morgan county police. They were brought to Covington and placed in jail here.

Mrs. Williams was rushed here for medical attention.

Georgia Rebels Against Soviet

Geneva, September 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—All of Georgia and Azerbaijan is declared to have been in active revolt against the Moscow soviet regime for the last five years, and half the territory of Georgia already has been conquered by the insurgents, according to the representatives of Georgia here. The sanguinary struggle is continuing and fighting is occurring in the streets of Batum, their advisers state.

London, September 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Georgian representative in London has received a dispatch from Constantinople saying that Georgia and Azerbaijan were revolting against the soviet occupation forces and that sanguinary conflicts have occurred, many being killed or wounded and railway and telegraphic communication being interrupted.

British official circles were unable today to confirm these reports.

A dispatch from Tiflis, capital of the Georgian republic, received by way of Moscow September 1, declared an attempt to overthrow the soviet regime in Georgia, made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic, had been put down. An official communique issued by the Georgian council of commissars claimed the movement had been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

YOUTHS ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE; DENY ACCUSATION

Samuel Willis Lewis, 19, of East

Hood street, were arrested late Wednesday night at Crimmins residence by Detectives Harrison and Hudson, and are held on charges implicating them in the robbery of a general merchandise store in East Point several weeks ago.

A trunk containing several lamps and other articles said to have been stolen from the store was found in Crimmins' room, officers claim. Both youths deny the charge.

WALKER'S LETTER PUT UNDER FIRE

exact. Judge Howard moved to Atlanta, January 1, 1921. Here is the exact proof of the date: Judge Howard caused to be published a picture of himself and a sketch of his life in a publication called "Men of the South." Everyone knows that such biographies are paid for and that the data is always furnished by the subject of the sketch and the copy approved by him in advance. In effect, therefore, Judge Howard is himself the author of this sketch of his life.

"We have the book before us and turn to page 458. It tells how Judge Howard was for years in Columbus, and when it says: 'January 1, 1921, he moved to Atlanta.' 'Nor had he been Governor Walker's friend for many years.' Just before he moved here he had managed the campaign for Governor Hardwick against Governor Walker, and had sent out literature denouncing Governor Walker all over Georgia. He certainly was not his friend then.

Moves to Atlanta.

"Having successfully managed Governor Hardwick's campaign and landed Governor Walker in the governor's chair, Judge Howard, January 1, 1921, moved to Atlanta. Apparently he was seeking to be near the seat of government from which his candidate would dispense political patronage.

"In the next campaign, in 1922, Judge Howard changed and managed Governor Walker's campaign against Governor Hardwick, and when Governor Walker took office Judge Howard immediately sought to cash in the political obligation under which he had placed the governor by obtaining from him the appointment as judge of the superior court.

"This was not after 'many years' residence in Atlanta. It was after about two and one-half years residence here and that alone.

Howard 'Comparative Stranger.'

"The voters, of course, have a right to elect a man as superior court judge the day he moves to Fulton county, and they wish to be able to believe, however, that they will take up a comparative stranger in our midst who was swept here on the crest of a political wave and then swept into office in another upheaval of state politics.

"Certainly we do not believe they will do this. They have the opportunity of voting for a man born and raised in this community, who, without backing, and without money, has really lived here 'many years.' He has lived here 'many years.' His character and career are known to his fellow citizens, and he has the endorsement of the overwhelming number of those in his own profession and who practiced before his court.

"Of course we welcome with open arms those who move here to make Atlanta their home. Many of this committee have moved here from elsewhere. But those of us who have moved here insist that a stranger should stay here long enough to get acquainted before he takes charge of our highest office."

HOT CHARGES FLY AT BOYKIN RALLY

Watkins before, but it is a fact that he never has spoken since opening his campaign, and has sent representatives such as you, a 'crap-shooting' lawyer, to meetings.

He then proceeded to flay Foster on personal grounds, charging that Foster has pleaded guilty to several charges before Judge Calhoun. "Your law partner, F. E. Harrison, has been indicted several times," Boykin declared.

"Yes, but you haven't been able to convict him," was Foster's rejoinder. Boykin then returned to his original subject, Judge Watkins, stating that his opponent never had defended anyone in the courts, so far as he (Boykin) knew, except in divorce cases.

Boykin Is Heated.

He then stated that he always had tried to be fair in his cases in the courts.

At that point, people began crowding into the aisles, and an unidentified man, clad in overalls, shouted, "You weren't fair to me in 1916, when you tried to send me to the street car strike." With the crowd expectedly hushed, Boykin explained that he had nothing to do with the case, as he was not in office in 1916.

Another man, who gave his name as Wall, cried, "I'm here to tell the people a few things. People ask why the lawyers of my brother were prosecuted, and many said it was because I was brought up by the A. B. & A. railroad. That's a lie, and I want to find out myself if the murderers have not been brought to justice."

County police appeared on the scene, and as the storm subsided, other candidates took the speakers' stand.

Miss Culbertson Speaks.

Miss Margaret Culbertson, candidate for the superior court, succeeded her father, Hubert L. Culbertson, who died in office last June, delivered an interesting talk. Miss Culbertson was teaching at June Scott college last year when called home by serious accident to her mother, and her father died shortly afterwards. Miss Culbertson explained that she thoroughly familiar with the work, as she was practically in charge of the office for several months during the illness which preceded her father's death.

Alderman Claude E. Buchanan and James E. Garrison, who will oppose Miss Culbertson for the place, also spoke.

Judge G. H. Howard, candidate for judge of the superior court of Fulton county, also spoke in Judge Howard's interests. Judge L. F. McClelland, also a candidate for the position, also spoke, and was represented by F. C. Burt.

Other speakers were Joseph Wood, Eugene Dickey, and Frank A. Hooper. The speaker for the legislature from Fulton county.

HONDURAN REBELS CAPTURE LA PAZ

San Salvador, September 3.—Advices received in revolutionary sources here are to the effect that the rebel forces of General Ferrera in Honduras have captured the town of La Paz, an important town in the southern part of the republic. The rebels add that General Manuel Antonio Lopez and his forces have been driven from the town. The rebels are now in possession of the town and are continuing their advance on Tegucigalpa.

LEAGUE MEMBERS TALK TOWARD U. S.

disarmament and national security. Herriot is expected to insist for guarantees of military assistance in the event of attack, while MacDonald probably will go before he assembly with a plea for compulsory arbitration of international disputes. Stowell's plan for national security likewise stresses compulsory arbitration and goes further by defining for the first time what shall constitute "aggression" of one power against another.

Refusal to submit to arbitration of the Hague is Stowell's definition of aggression. The French objection to Stowell's thesis is said to be that he provides no punishment for an aggressor once he has been defined.

Pave Way for MacDonald.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the outspoken Norwegian delegate who has enlivened assembly sessions before this, particularly by his stern condemnation of the Italian occupation of Corfu just a year ago, cleared a way for MacDonald's expected plea for compulsory arbitration in a speech before the assembly, in which he called attention to the fact that arbitration has been a policy of American statecraft since John Jay negotiated his famous treaty with England in 1796. In urging the birth of the Hague court as a focus of peace and security, Nansen called upon the world to heed the words of the American secretary of state, Charles Evans Hughes, who said that the court was so perfectly organized that all nations should support it.

"The protocol of the Hague court permits all signatories to accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the court in the same manner as that employed in the Anglo-American arbitration treaty of 1911," Nansen said. "To date only 17 countries have signed this compulsory arbitration clause of the court's protocol and that number does not include a single great power."

No Excuse for Delay.

"This has been a great disappointment to small nations who hoped to see the great powers develop arbitration by voluntary acceptance of it. Three years of experience has demonstrated the court's excellence. Secretary Hughes has publicly declared that the court is so perfectly organized that all nations should support it. Arbitration is dear to America, where it dates from John Jay's treaty of 1796. The entire world should heed Hughes' words," Nansen explained that there no longer is any justification for the great powers to shun the court, which has proved its ability to handle difficult situations.

Nansen pointed to the acceptance of arbitration in the working out of the Dawes plan as a step toward better relations between nations and called upon all to take part in a further step which would result in the compulsory arbitration of all disputes of whatever nature.

LA FOLLETTE HOLD NOT LOST TO DATE

this La Follette strength, so long as it sticks to La Follette, speeches will value that it might serve to throw the election into congress.

Hope to Sap Strength.

But the democrats have an invincible expectation that before the campaign ends, they and not La Follette will be the direct beneficiary of the vote which at this stage of the campaign is credited to La Follette. They say that Davis' approaching speeches on agricultural subjects in the west will make a better appeal to the thoughtful farmer than anything La Follette has said either in his speeches or his platform. The democrats claim also that Davis' appeal to labor on Monday will better appeal to La Follette, in which claim some disinterested observers agree. The democrats say their present difficulty is to get publicity for Davis' speeches. They are not discouraged about it, for they have enormous faith in the virtue of Davis' intellectual capacity, and believe that the time will come when they will compel printing in full, even by papers not friendly to Davis, and that once printed and read, Davis' speeches will win on the night of his election.

For the moment, the democrats point out that the two largest "strings" of newspapers in the country are definitely against Davis. These are the Scripps papers and the Hearst ones. The Hearst papers are opposing Davis, and giving more or less a break to Coolidge and La Follette. The Scripps papers, however, are not friendly to Davis, and that once printed and read, Davis' speeches will win on the night of his election.

Centers of Opposition.

Hearst has three offices in New York city, and three more in other cities of New York state. He has two in Boston, two in Milwaukee, two in Chicago, and one in San Francisco, and four distributed among the large cities of California. The other large "string" of papers, the Scripps group, is more or less formally in favor of La Follette. The Hearst papers are strong in some western states; and where they are strong, La Follette is strong. There are five Scripps papers in the leading cities of the west, in Indian apolis, one in Seattle, one in Spokane, one in Denver, one in Omaha and others in other western cities.

Said the Hearst group, the democrats make complaint that the Curtis publications, including daily papers in Philadelphia and New York, as well as the weekly magazines, are not friendly to Coolidge.

The democrats regard these handicaps in the matter of publicity as their greatest asset, for they feel that their great asset is the personality and intellectual quality of their candidate. They are now making plans which they believe will be effective in making Davis' speeches and personality familiar to the voters. In this, as in other aspects of organization, the democrats have been late in getting underway, but those in their national headquarters here in Washington express complete confidence that their organization will be entirely adequate from now on.

PITCHED BATTLE OPENED IN CHINA

king railway to the coast. There is an artillery action along the railway.

Shanghai, China, September 3.—With troops advancing on the outskirts of the city, foreign marines patrolling the streets, and the first casualties beginning to arrive from the battle zone, Shanghai and its foreign colony are now in close contact with the Chinese civil war.

By 9 o'clock Wednesday night troops from the province of Minangau, in which Shanghai is located, had advanced to within 12 miles of the city. Heavy fighting throughout the afternoon was reported from the region of Quinsan, 30 miles from here, and at 9:20 Wednesday night the first lot of killed and wounded began arriving here.

French and Japanese marines already have landed to protect their nationals. The British and Americans remain on their warships, but are ready to come ashore at a moment's command.

Fighting on Two Fronts.

Beginning with sporadic clashes between the forces of the rival provincial generals, Ch'ieh Hsueh Yuan and Lu Yung Hsiang, the fighting has extended to two fronts and has become so intense that truce can be heard in Shanghai. General Lu's attacking forces are marching against the forces of General Ch'ieh, who is attempting to defend the city.

Sections of the two armies met at Quinsan Wednesday afternoon in the heaviest fighting that has been reported thus far, although rain had hampered the action of the artillery. An airplane, en route to the front from General Lu's headquarters at Hangchow, passed over Shanghai during the afternoon.

Foreign warships concentrated here have now increased to 21, including 12 American vessels. British and American sailors are preparing to cooperate in case it is necessary to defend the foreign settlement, and the Shanghai volunteer corps, composed of foreign residents, is standing by ready to protect foreign life and property.

FIRST ENGAGEMENT PROVES INCONCLUSIVE.

Shanghai, September 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first day's fighting, less than 20 miles from here, in the Hwangtu-Nansiang district, in the warfare between rival Chinese military governors, proved inconclusive, advices here tonight indicated.

The Chekiang troops, fighting for General Lu Yung-Hsiang, were reported to have retreating to prepared positions near Nansiang, on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, 12 miles away. A major engagement is expected there tomorrow.

An eye-witness survey behind the Chekiang lines, from Shanghai to Woonzang and Lusho, showed that the Chinese were not retreating, but were taking up a position two miles west of Lusho, apparently in preparation for an attack tomorrow.

Four hundred French sailors came ashore this afternoon to supplement the one volunteer company already on duty in possible emergency defense of the French settlement boundaries.

Several contingents of British marines also were moved from ship to shore into the international settlement, but it was explained that the transfer was made largely because accommodations aboard the British war craft were limited.

Battled Police Turn to Occult To Solve Crime

Body of Missing Earls Will Be Found in Water Hole, Says Medium.

Murfreesboro, Tenn., September 2.—The Rutherford county officers, discouraged by their failure to find a solution to the disappearance of George Earls, whose bloodstained buggy was found near here a week ago today, turned to the occult to assist them in solving the case.

Rossie O. Burns, a deputy sheriff, and Horace Watkins, a former sheriff of Bedford county, went to Nashville last night for a conference with a fortune teller, who told them the officer said that Earls was murdered on the night of August 28, and that his body was secreted in a hole covered with water five miles east of the town of Earls, near the junction of the road at which the buggy was found. The medium is also said to have told the officers that the murder was committed by a tall, slender man, wearing a top hat, and a dark suit.

This description tallies exactly with that of the man said by witnesses to have driven away from the livery stable with Earls on the night of his disappearance. Water-covered holes, it was pointed out, are numerous in the vicinity.

AMERICAN AVIATORS REACH NOVA SCOTIA

military officer of this district: Major J. A. McEachern, of Pictou, and other notables.

Then they were guests for a few moments of Captain Conant Taylor, commander of the American torpedo-bomber destroyer Barry, before they assumed the roles of guests of honor at an official reception at which Mayor McEachern presided.

Piper Band Leads Parade.

After the reception on the Barry, the triumphant aviators paraded through the streets of the town headed by the piper band of the Pictou Highlanders, clad in kilts of old Scotland and under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel L. H. MacKenzie, D. S. O. The procession, which included details from the United States destroyer Barry, the Canadian destroyer Patriot and detachments of cadets and school children, returned to the town square, where addresses of welcome were delivered by the mayor and the representatives of the dominion and provincial governments and the air and land forces of the dominion.

Major Welsford MacDonald, son of the minister of defense and a member of the provincial legislature for Pictou, speaking on behalf of the government of Nova Scotia, took occasion to pay special tribute to Lieutenant Wade and Ogden, who, he said, had the misfortune to lose their plane through no fault of their own on the flight from the Orkney Islands to Iceland.

The people of Pictou, with whom they had sojourned for the past week, he said, had grown to love and respect them and would follow with peculiar interest the completion of their flight.

BOSTON IS ALL SET TO RECEIVE FLIERS.

Boston, September 3.—With the world fliers only a few hundred miles from home, preparations for their probable landing here Friday were completed today. Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service and the originator of the world flight idea, came by air from New York with officers in 14 other planes. They will fly up the coast to escort the world aviators here. Officials of the nation, the state and the city arranged a program of welcome that will be as simple as possible, in keeping with the fliers' wishes.

Arriving at the East Boston airport, where the world fliers will make their landing after mooring their pontooned planes in the stream, the head of the air service took occasion to praise the spirit of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and his fellow fliers in overcoming obstacles.

"The way they have done this thing, the manner in which they have obeyed orders to take no undue chances, although their inclination was to keep going," was especially commended by him.

They have flown virtually around the world in less than 300 hours across flying time, he said, adding that with further provisions "this entire journey can be accomplished with the present planes in 15 days."

While General Patrick was saying what the army could do for them, R. C. Moffatt was proving it. In a Curtiss pursuit type plane, such as Lieutenant Moffatt used in his dawn-to-dusk flight across the country, Moffatt flew from Boston to New York, an air distance of 183 miles, in 58 minutes to deliver official pictures of the world flight brought here today by the destroyer Lawrence. He paused at Mitchell Field seven minutes for the business that took him there, then rose again on the return.

LOCATELLI PERMAINS NAVY FOR ASSISTANCE.

Boston, September 3.—Bringing words of praise for the American navy for rescuing him and four companions from death in the icy sea off Cape Farewell, Greenland, Lieut. Antonio Locatelli, the Italian aviator, arrived here Wednesday aboard the U. S. destroyer Lawrence.

Locatelli, who with his pilots and mechanics was forced down on the ocean waste by a bad motor, said that he owed his life to the alertness of the American navy. They had about given up hope, he said, when the destroyer Richmond came to their aid.

The group of Italian aviators, which included besides Locatelli, Tullio Crozio, assistant pilot; Bruno Falcinelli and Giovanni Dracchi, mechanics, and Silvio Calchi, flight manager, were warmly received by representatives of the Italian consulate office and delegations from a number of Italian societies as the destroyer came into the Charlestown navy yard.

Locatelli said he had no plans for another globe-circling attempt this year. He will depart for New York Thursday, where he plans to remain about two weeks before returning to Italy.

Returns In 67 Minutes.

Against head winds, he made the return trip in 67 minutes, rising to a height of 10,000 feet over New Haven, Conn., in an attempt to gain favoring winds with altitude. The round trip of 206 miles was made in two hours and 12 minutes, including the seven minutes stop at the world-girdling trip, will be joined on the jump from Pictou, N. S., to this city by another "Boston" in the hands of Lieutenant Leigh Wade and H. H. Ogden, who lost their ship the waters off Iceland. They will share in the honors awaiting the world fliers here.

RELIABLE DRUGGISTS

First Application Stops Itching of Eczema and Piles, says Peterson.

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson of Buffalo. "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINT

This is from a poem by George L.

Morris, called "The Flag of Our Union." It was probably inspired by John Dickinson in "The Liberty Song of 1768," in which he wrote: "Then join in hand, brave Americans all! By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall."

How many presidents has the United States had? How many presidential terms have there been? Can it really be said that any of the men who were vice-presidents and who succeeded to the office of president were really "presidents," they not in reality "acting presidents," since the constitution provides that in case of the "Inability (of the president) to discharge his powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice-president." If a vice-president should ever succeed because of the president's "disability," would a vice-president, in such a case, be a president?

the president would again take the office—therefore it is contended that a vice-president would be merely an acting president and should not be counted as a "president."

Twenty-nine individual persons have so far held and exercised the office of "President of the United States." Grover Cleveland is counted in the lists twice in making up the number thirty—usually given as the number of presidents—since his two terms were separated by that of Benjamin Harrison. There have been 34 “presidential terms,” of four years each, in the history of the U. S. (counting the present term which exsires March 4, 1925). The expression "acting president" is not used in the constitution and there has never been a case where a "disability" was declared, much less of a return of a "disabled" president to his duties. The question, however, was early settled in the history of the U. S.: Tyler was the first vice-president called to the presidential chair, and as he was absent at the time of President Harrison's death, the cabinet had concluded he should be styled "vice-president of the United States."

But on Tyler's return he very quickly and fully removed this impression, and again assumed the title of "President of the United States," a title which has been assumed by each vice-president who succeeded to the presidential office since that time.

White Spots.
I should like to know the name of the composition of the stain you gave for white spots on the skin. My physician said the spots are due to lack of pigment in the blood. (B. L.)

Answer—The physician probably said lack of pigment in the skin. The paint I suggested to conceal such spots is merely a temporary expedient for cosmetic use, not a stain or dye. It consists of half an ounce of zinc oxide, has an ounce of clamin powder, tablespoonful of glycerine and a pint of water. Add to this drop by drop ichthyl until you get the tint of the normal skin.

That Tuberculosis Story.

More than once you have spoken of a man who resides out west some where who wrote a book on how he cured himself of tuberculosis. The book is sold by some society, I think. I am anxious to get a copy. . . .
(E. S. W.)

Answers—Oh, well, I give up. No use trying to straighten that out. Readers will have it the way they imagine it should be, in spite of all I can say. The pamphlet I have recommended many times is by a man as far out west as Detroit. The title and subject of the pamphlet is "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home." Not how he cured himself; the man made no such fool attempt. He won the battle and recovered by following his doctor's advice. Residents of Wayne county

Michigan may obtain the pamphlet free of charge, all other persons must send 5 cents for a copy, to the Detroit and Wayne County Tuberculosis society, 136 East Jefferson street, Detroit, Mich. The story is by J. E. Stocker, and was originally published in Journal of the Outdoor Life, the magazine of the National Tuberculosis association, 370 Seventh avenue, New York, N. Y. (Copyright, 1924, for The Constitution.)

COOL WEATHER WILL CONTINUE SEVERAL DAYS

The cool weather which has prevailed in Atlanta for the past two days as a boon to hot weather sufferers will continue for several days, at least, was the prediction Wednesday.

Tumbling to the 61 mark, the temperature at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning stood at its lowest since the cool wave hit this section. The maximum temperature Wednesday hovered around 80 degrees and will probably be about the same today, with clear, dry weather in sight, according to Meteorologist von Herrmann, who stated that the chilling rainfall of Tuesday had broken the long drought and greatly helped crops in

The sudden drop in the mercury, however, is not necessarily an indication of a continued cold spell, Mr. von Herrmann said, as the first killing frost is not expected until the early part of November.

The average mean temperature for the month of August was 80.4, which is the highest on record since the establishment of the local bureau, except during the month of August

The precipitation for Tuesday and Tuesday night was .88 of an inch.

HUGHES IS BLAMED FOR CHINESE WAR

Moscow, September 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Secretary of State Hughes is precipitating the civil war in China, the newspaper Izvestia asserts today in discussing the attitude of the United States toward the hostilities in China.

The newspaper declares that Mr. Hughes is feeling uneasy because, since her agreement with Russia, China is acknowledging her own national aims and is striving to thrust off the yoke of foreign capitalists. Mr. Hughes, it adds, is afraid for the future of American interests in China, which he considers as a colony for growing American industries.

America is charged by the newspaper with violation of the decision of the Washington conference in regard to China.

"Instead of a policy of good will toward China," Izvestia declares, "the United States is now organizing against her an imperial union with England and Japan, against the latter of whom America herself previously struggled for her own interests in China. All this is being done because Mr. Hughes will not allow China to carry out her policy."

In Chinese cities streets are never built straight from superstitions fear that processions of evil spirits might otherwise enter and remain.

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE IS a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that clear skin—that beauty, a clear skin—is the harbinger of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clear blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, from eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

103RD BIRTHDAY

SPENT IN VISITING AND HOUSE WORK

Hastings, Minn., September 3.—Mrs. Laney Truax celebrated her 103rd birthday today. She spent the day as usual, walking down town to visit friends, and assisting with house work. Yesterday she took a 100-mile motor trip with her son, Albert, who is 81.

"I am in real good health," Mrs. Truax said. She admitted, however, that her eyesight and hearing are "not what they used to be."

Mrs. Truax was born in New York state, September 2, 1821.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR ROME FIRM

Constitution Bureau.
Masonic Temple Annex, Phone 1069.
Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—B. F. Harris, vice president of the First National bank, has been named temporary receiver of the Rome Clay Products company, upon the petition of H. G. Fitzgerald and L. A. Dean, alleging irregularities in a purported meeting of stockholders held in Cleveland, Ohio, August 21.

The petition is brought against the defendant company, and names Mrs. E. M. Vann, S. H. Mondrach and C. C. Winfrey as majority common stock owners, all of whom reside in Cleveland. The petition was filed in the Floyd superior court by the firm of Maddox, Matthews & Owens, and L. A. Dean and Lamar Camp. Judge Mose Wright set the date of hearing as September 6.

The petitioners alleged that its successful operation is endangered by illegal actions of stockholders and asks that the courts declare the proceedings of this meeting null and void and a receiver be named to operate the business.

In the petition of Dean and Fitzgerald, it is alleged that Fitzgerald went to Cleveland in answer to a telegram from C. C. Winfrey to come and bring the records of the company. It further alleges that the constitution and by-laws of the company only makes provision for one meeting a year of stockholders, and that those voting shall only be owners of common stock.

It alleges that when Fitzgerald reached Cleveland he was told to hide the books from S. H. Mondrach, in the office of Winfrey. He refused, he declares. Other irregularities are charged.

Judge Wright ordered the business continued under the receiver, and authorized negotiations of loans needed to take care of operating expenses until the matter is cleared.

Rome Lays Grid Plans.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Rome High school alumni met tonight at the Rome High building with members of the 1924 football squad. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

Speeches were made by a number of the alumni and members of the team.

Mrs. Johnson Interred.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Mrs. R. A. Johnson, 77, who died at her home Tuesday, were held from the residence today. Interment was at the Rome cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Alabama and came to Rome many years ago. For the past 34 years she ran one of Rome's exclusive boarding houses.

She is survived by her daughter, grandson, four sisters and a brother.

Rome To Name Beauty.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—There are only 11 more days left in which to name "Miss Rome," who not only will have the honor of being queen at the homecoming of Floyd county fair, but will be Rome's representative at the Southeastern fair at Atlanta when "Miss Georgia" is selected.

Miss Rome will be given many honors, and will also be the center of many social affairs.

Legion Plans Meeting.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Shanklin-Atwater post of the American legion is planning a big meeting to be held at the Forrest hotel Monday night. A program is being arranged.

The 1925 Georgia convention is coming to Rome and officers plan a membership of 500.

Rome Schools Open.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Both Berry school and Darlington began their terms Tuesday, when students began registering.

Rome High school will open classrooms Thursday, September 4. The largest student body ever attending the public school is expected.

Darlington will give its first year school this year, being its second year as a boarding school. There will be over 150 students. The boarding list of about 50 boys has not yet been completed, while day students will number more than 100.

Berry schools opened with the largest student body ever attending. Shorter college will open September 10.

Watson To Teach.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Gordon Watson, an honor graduate of Rome High school in 1919, has been appointed instructor in English at Emory university during the 1924-1925 session. Mr. Watson was graduated from Emory university in 1923 with an A. B. degree and was professor of English at Sparks college, near Valdosta, Ga., last year.

Psychic Marvel To Answer Queries in Constitution

Princess Waleitka, who will appear at Loew's Grand next week, will answer questions of Atlantans through The Constitution.

Imagine, if you can, a person who can answer the innermost questions of your mind, a person who can forecast your future, accurately, and then, through The Constitution, ask those questions. For Princess Waleitka, psychic princess of the Cherokees, has agreed to answer ten questions daily, taken at random, through the columns of The Constitution next week.

Princess Waleitka, who has amazed the world of science by her supernatural powers, comes to Loew's Grand theater next week for her last vaudeville appearance before the American public.

Princess Waleitka, who has just returned to the United States from a sensational tour of England and the continent, and who enjoys the honor of having been presented to his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, is an authority on psychology, and the author of various books on the subject, among them being "Lifting the Veil," "You Are That," and "The Princess Waleitka's Book of Knowledge."

She is the daughter of the late Minnie Spy Buck, who met death during rescue work in the great Iroquois fire at Chicago. Her grandfather was Spy Buck, chief medicine man of the Cherokee tribe, and it was the latter who discovered the amazing psychic powers of the princess. Waleitka astounded the Cherokees with her ability to forecast, and her uncanny predictions.

After a solemn "pow-wow" of the prime Cherokee council, Waleitka entered school. She completed her education at Carlisle university.

"Fate Is Absolute"

In one of her works Princess Waleitka declares:

"Kismet, the appointed lot of mankind, is absolute. It is immune to reason as are its messengers. That is why so many of us do not recognize our premonition when they come to us because we are too practical, too skeptical, to recognize Fate's warning to us through our subenses."

Princess Waleitka has mastered her reasoning subenses and has made them obedient and to the extent that she receives a true and complete telepathic message from the unrecognized "dream senses" of those who consult her. You have but to speak to her or write to her to transmit the positive, past, present or future.

It is this amazing power that has brought this young woman to the attention of the public, both in this and European countries.

Princess Waleitka, who is now appearing in Atlanta at Loew's Grand theater, will answer, through the columns of The Constitution, ten questions each day, these ten questions being taken at random from all the questions received between now and the end of next week.

Anyone is entitled to send in questions to Princess Waleitka. Write your name, address and question plainly, and in answering only the initials will be used so that no one will be embarrassed.

Any kind of question may be sent in. Princess Waleitka, whether it be of a personal nature or whether it is a question, the answer to which would prove of general interest.

The answers of Princess Waleitka, through the columns of this newspaper, will be entirely separate from the exhibition of her psychic power which she will display on the stage at Loew's Grand theater all of next week.

Princess Waleitka predicted the great war two years before it happened, and forecast the finish within

POLITICAL FUR FLIES IN SOLICITOR'S RACE

Claude Smith, of Fairburn, and Young Harris Fraser, of Decatur, rival candidates for solicitor of the Stone Mountain judicial circuit, exchanged hot charges at a political rally in East Atlanta school Wednesday, arranged by the eleventh ward League of Women Voters.

Harris denied charges he said Smith had made the night before to the effect that he had not paid his taxes for this year and declared that his opponent had never been a resident of any county in the circuit until three months before he became solicitor, having moved to Fairburn then from a Luckie street address in Atlanta. Smith countered with reiteration of the tax evasion charge and declaration that his opponent's accusation was without basis.

Further personalities were forbidden by the chairman on appeal from the audience.

Other candidates for state and DeKalb county offices spoke. The Atlanta eleventh ward lies partly in DeKalb and partly in Fulton.

Railroad Evangelist Dies.

Washington, September 3.—Jennie Smith, known to many railroad men throughout the country as the "Railroad Evangelist," died here today at the age of 82. She had traveled widely, holding meetings in roundhouses, railroad shops and on trains, and at one time was a national leader in the temperance movement.

A week of the actual date. She foretold the death of the ex-lsiner and the eye accident to Haysfoot Johnson.

Princess Waleitka can answer your question. Just write it on a plain piece of paper and include it in an envelope addressed to Princess Waleitka, care of Loew's Grand Theater, Atlanta, Ga. Send your questions now. Ten will be selected at random each day and the answers by Princess Waleitka will be printed in The Constitution next week.

GILBERT ACCEPTS REPARATION POST

Paris, September 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., former American under-secretary of the treasury, has accepted the post of agent-general for reparations under the Dawes plan. The post is being temporarily filled by Owen D. Young, of New York, who aided General Dawes and the other experts in drawing up the plan.

The reparation commission met this afternoon and confirmed the appointment of Mr. Gilbert in succession to Agent-General Young.

Mr. Gilbert is due to arrive in Paris about the middle of the month. Mr. Young will return on the 14th from Berlin, where he is going today. He intends to meet the commission for railway debentures here at that time to arrange with them the particulars of the payments to be made to the agent-general, and Mr. Gilbert is expected here in time to take part in this conference.

Kufus Dawes, who goes with Mr. Young to Berlin, is to be placed by him in charge of the Berlin office of the organization carrying out the Dawes plan.

Mr. Young remarked before leaving on his trip that Germany's payment of 20,000,000 gold marks yesterday spoke more effectively than any words of his.

Gilbert has accepted the post without any agreement as to salary or allowances. This subject has not yet been formally mentioned in the commission, but it is probable that he will have a salary equivalent to $7,000 a year with rather generous additions for the expenses of his work which probably will require him to spend three months out of four in Berlin.

IS ONLY 21 AND UNMARRIED.

Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., is but 21 years old and unmarried. By profession a lawyer, he became interested in government financial matters in 1918 when he was made a member of the war loan staff in the office of the secretary of the treasury, acting as counsel in matters pertaining to the raising of funds for the prosecution of America's part in the great war.

In June, 1920, he was nominated by President Wilson for the post of assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs. He was re-appointed in March, 1921, and served until June of that year, following which he became under-secretary of the treasury, continuing in that position until November of last year.

Mr. Gilbert holds several degrees from Rutgers college and is an LL.B. cum laude, of Harvard university. He makes his home in Bloomfield, N. J., the place of his birth.

COLUMBIA, ILL., BANK IS LOOTED OF $7,000

Columbia, Ill., September 3.—The First National bank here was held up shortly before noon today and robbed of between $7,000 and $10,000 by four bandits, who escaped in an automobile.

Brownston, Minn., September 3.—Residents of Brownston engaged in a gun fight with four bandits who had entered the First State bank here early today and drove them from the town. No one was hurt and the bandits fled in an automobile without loot.

Wentworth, S. D., September 3.—The Wentworth State bank here was broken into early today by a band of robbers, but a burglar alarm aroused residents and frightened the band away empty handed. They left their tools.

Dawes Plan Dictator Called 'Young Alexander Hamilton'

S. PARKER GILBERT, JR., IS FINANCIAL WIZARD

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, September 3.—Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., the youthful American who has been named dictator of a European settlement under the Dawes plan, is the financial wizard whose rapid rise and phenomenal work here earned him the title of "boy wonder of the treasury."

The tall, slender young man who will succeed Owen D. Young as agent-general of reparations is only 31 years old. He came to the treasury here in 1918, as a youngster of 25, and his brilliant career is still the talk of his gray-headed associates in the government.

Some of his fellow-workers in the treasury—and he was well-liked—dubbed him "Young Alexander Hamilton." Secretary Mellon was very fond of him, and placed upon his youthful lieutenant considerable responsibility. Gilbert, as under secretary during Mellon's regime, was in charge of the mass of government finances when the secretary left the capital.

Gilbert is a lawyer by profession. He is now a member of the firm of Cravath, Henderson and De Gersdorff in New York city. He came to the treasury from this firm in 1918 to join the war loan staff as counsel, and rose step by step.

Named Assistant by Houston.

Because of his brilliant work, he was named an assistant secretary by former Secretary David F. Houston, and Mellon raised him to the highest post below himself, making him under secretary. He left the treasury in July last year and went back with his old firm, finding it hard to live there at sundown, play about two holes—then come back," his friend said, smiling.

Treasury officials regard Gilbert as splendidly equipped for his work as agent-general of reparations, which it is his great love. Secretary Mellon called him a "phenomenon" on one occasion.

Gilbert worked day and night while at the treasury. The light in his office on the second floor of the gloomy building just below the white house often was seen burning far after midnight.

"He was a late hour man," one of his associates said, in recalling Gilbert's period at the treasury. "He enjoyed working in the early morning hours. Time and again he used to return to his office here after he had been to the theater or dinner, and plunge into his work wearing a dress suit, staying until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. Next morning he would be down bright and early with the rest of us."

"Gilbert was only 25 when he came here, but he had the grasp of a man of 50," this friend said. "He has a long head on him, and a sage's experience. He thinks deeply and acts quickly. He never forgot a one."

Was Tireless Worker.

"He was a tireless worker. That always came first with him, in fact, it was his life."

Gilbert, while abroad as czar of the reparations settlement, probably will sneak away to some cool stream when he desires a little rest and recreation from his work. Fishing is his hobby, about the only one he has, unless it is the circus.

"He did like a circus," his friend said.

But he doesn't care much for sports, other than fishing. He did play a little golf after a fashion, but never became fascinated with it.

"He used to go out to the golf course after the treasury had closed, live there at sundown, play about two holes—then come back," his friend said, smiling.

Treasury officials regard Gilbert as splendidly equipped for his work as agent-general of reparations, which post he will take when Young has completed the organization work. He is thoroughly familiar with all phases of the foreign financial situation from his contact with developments abroad through the treasury. During the present administration, he handled all operations in connection with the funding of the public debt of this country.

EUROPE ACCEPTS GILBERT APPOINTMENT GRACEFULLY.

BY JOHN O'BRIEN.

Paris, September 3.—Gracefully, and without the suggestion of disproportion that might be expected, Europe has placed the responsibility for her post-war recuperation in the hands of a youthful American, not quite 32 years old.

That is the significant, unprecedented fact contained in the appointment of Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., to the powerful post of agent-general of reparations. As director of the machinery which will apply the Dawes settlement to Europe, young Gilbert will assume a position which the German press recently described as possessing more power than ever held by Kaiser Wilhelm.

There was some hesitation, of course, about naming a man just past 30—precocious and quick at figures as he might be—to become European financial dictator. In a world where reverence for age is in the United States, there was a certain shyness over asking a smooth-faced Yankee to step in blithely and advise gray-haired European diplomats how to salvage their financial wreckage. But it was decided that Gilbert's extraordinary financial ability, gained as assistant secretary of the treasury under Andrew Mellon, should offset any prejudice against youth.

So it was announced Wednesday that Gilbert had been offered and had accepted the job of "reparations dictator."

Symbol of Rejuvenation.

His appointment is a dramatic symbol of the rejuvenation which Europe has undergone since the war. The youth who is now a junior member of the New York law firm of Cravath, Henderson and De Gersdorff was, nevertheless, being turned down because of his plans to remain here during most of the campaign.

a lawyer. Making his decision to accept, he weighed these considerations against the great prestige which must accrue from the reparations post, where he will guide the economic destiny of the old world.

In addition to acting as agent-general, here are a few of the powers that will fall to the American youth:

He will be chairman of the all-important transfer committee, which conveys the reparations payments from the Germans to the allies, under the Dawes plan. In his account, all these payments will be deposited. It will be his duty to regulate the transfer of German money, so the allies can receive as much as possible, and still not upset European exchange. Finally, he will have the power to reduce German payments when accumulations reach five billion gold marks.

Washington, September 3.—President Coolidge put the finishing touches today on his program for agriculture relief which he expects to accomplish through an investigation by a commission he will appoint soon, and then devoted some time to writing the speech he will deliver in Baltimore Saturday at the dedication of the La Fayette statue.

In announcing his agriculture commission it is expected the president will outline definitely his hopes for farmers and the nature of a legislative program he will expect to be adopted as a result of the investigation. He has indicated he considers sufficient emergency laws already enacted and will expect future legislation to deal with a permanent agriculture program.

COOLIDGE COMPLETES AGRICULTURE PLAN

He has indicated he considers sufficient emergency laws already enacted and will expect future legislation to deal with a permanent agriculture program.

The daily mail of the president brings more and more invitations for addresses but it was said at the white house that in almost every instance these were being turned down because of his plans to remain here during most of the campaign.

MRS. EDITH M. CONWAY IS AGAIN ARRESTED

Tampa, Fla., September 3.—Mrs. Edith M. Conway, acquitted last Saturday on a charge of being an accessory in the robbery of A. C. Clewis, banker, of $24,000, was arrested again yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen money and is held in the county jail under bond of $10,000, which she had not offered today. The case against Major F. M. Williams, former chief of police, was nolle prossed yesterday. He was charged with being a party to the robbery of C. C. Killingsworth, another da-

Miss Poole and Mr. King Honored With Lovely Bridge-Supper

Miss Frances Poole and Clyde Lanier King, Jr., whose marriage will be a beautiful event of this month were honored by Miss Mary Frances Cooledge with a bridge supper Wednesday evening at her home on Peachtree road.

The spacious rooms where the game was played were lovely in their decorations of pink and lavender flowers, artistically arranged in vases and bowls.

Following the game the bride party was seated at a large round table in the dining room, while the other guests were seated at small individual tables. Gracing the center of the large table was a large silver basket filled with pink and lavender flowers. Small silver baskets filled with these same lovely flowers were placed at intervals alternating with tall silver candelsticks holding unshaded pink tapers. Silver baskets filled with pink roses adorned the center of the small tables.

Mrs. Harold Cooledge assisted her sister in entertaining. She wore an attractive gown of lace over cream colored satin.

Miss Cooledge was lovely in an old-fashioned gown of pale blue tulle trimmed in tiny pink roses.

Miss Poole was dressed in a cream colored gown trimmed in cream lace. The guests included the bride party and members of the two families.

Miss Malese Cater Is Honor Guest.

Miss Malese Cater, of Meridian, Miss., who is visiting Miss Jeannette Staples, was honor guest at the luncheon given Wednesday by Miss Ruby Legg at her home on Argonne avenue.

The table held in the center of a large vase of yellow garden flowers. Surrounding the central decoration were silver compotes of yellow and white mints and silver candelabra holding unshaded tapers of yellow.

Miss Legg was dressed in a fall model of brown crepe trimmed with beaver. Miss Cater wore black and white crepe de Chine with a black hat.

Little Miss Ransome Is Given Party.

Mrs. Clifford Ransome entertained at a delightful party Monday afternoon at her home on Rosedale drive, the occasion celebrating the first birthday of her little daughter, Emily. Quantities of bright summer flowers were used on the porch and in the rooms where the little guests were assembled.

Games were played and several contests were enjoyed. Jean Brigham, Georgia Hunt and Jack Elliott winning the prizes.

A daintily appointed table filled with pretty favors was the center of attention. Before the place of the young hostess was a birthday cake holding one pink candle in a rose-bud holder. A large silver basket filled with flowers graced the center of the table and smaller paper baskets held mints and lovely paper dolls.

Fifteen little guests were invited.

Miss Middleton To Be Honored By Miss Johnson

Miss Lucia Johnson will entertain at a bridge-luncheon on Tuesday of next week at her home on East Fourteenth street in honor of Miss Mary O. Middleton, who will leave at an early date for Toul, France, where she will spend the winter studying.

Twenty-four guests will be invited to meet Miss Middleton.

Miss Johnson will be hostess Saturday at a bridge-luncheon in compliment to Misses Evelyn Slade and Alice Searcy, of Griffin, who are the guests of Miss Sarah Hart.

Travis M. Ramsey Will Lecture Sunday.

Travis Milton Ramsey, well-known character student, will next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Chamber of Commerce Hall No. 2, lecture on "Intuition, The Voice of God."

Mr. Ramsey will present his subject from the standpoint of the character analyst, which science he has been a devotee for more than 30 years. Following the lecture an open forum discussion will be conducted by Bible students and psychologists present.

These meetings will be held Sunday afternoon at the same hour throughout September with a special musical program each meeting by prominent musicians.

Next Sunday's musical program will consist of a vocal solo by Miss Mary Hayes, with William Kart, accompanist; piano solo, Mrs. Edgar Gunn; violin solo, Mrs. Nancy Adams. The general public is invited.

Prince of Wales Is Expected To Prolong Tour for Year

HEIR TO BRITISH THRONE MAY VISIT SOUTH AMERICA

BY THE SAUNDERSON.

New York, N. Y., September 3.—There was more talk today about the big dance Mrs. John Sanford will give for the Prince of Wales on the thirteenth of September at her home at East Norwich, L. I., than about the huge dinner to be held at the Piping Rock club in honor of the royal visitor. Mrs. Sanford, who is noted for the houseparty she entertains at the Sanford place at New Amsterdam and also for dances given at her home in New York, once the home of the late James A. Stillman, knows exactly how to plan a ball for the young people. Her elder daughter, Janice, who is much admired by King Edward's son, has coal-black eyes and coal-black hair brushed down smoothly into braids, one over each ear, and her younger daughter, Gertrude, is full of pep and fun. These two can make any dance go off in fine style. Stephen Sanford, the son of the hostess, is, of course, one of the American chums of the prince, for it was Stephen who won the derby with one of his thoroughbreds, thus coming in close touch with sports-loving royalty.

The house at East Norwich, now being occupied by the Sanfords, and to be the scene of the festivities on the thirteenth, is in reality the very heart of the Howard Brook's, who have been abroad. It is of red brick and two-storied and most picturesque. As few seem to know, Mrs. Sanford is a Sanford of New Amsterdam by birth as well as by marriage. It was Stephen, the father of her happy-go-lucky son, who founded the Sanford carpet manufactory at New Amsterdam, making a fortune as huge as that inherited by Alexander Smith Osborn from the same sort of an industry.

Alex, by the way, will stay on his yacht, the "Daily Bowen," named after his niece, daughter of Mrs. Harry Bowen, until the end of the week. He has a box not far from the royal box in which the prince will be seated.

Better Dancer Than Poloist.

The prince, to tell the truth, is better at dancing than a polo player. He does not play a very strong game, because he has little chance to practice. He is putting in as much time at it as possible while down on Long Island, for after he leaves his ranch he will not often be in the saddle. He will be absent from England for a whole year on a tour that is likely to include South America, as he has confided to his friends among the polo players.

Many of the notables of Locust Valley and of Glen Cove and Oyster Bay were busy rehearsing their impromptu speeches to be delivered at the dinner given at the Piping Rock club for the Prince of Wales. It was a banquet illuminated by much genial conversation and by the flow of wit, if not of anything else of the flowing variety. The scene was novel, for the royal guest looked exceedingly slim, willowy and bashful compared to the Long Island squires who sat near him.

Henry Rogers, Winthrop, was all primed up to make a few bright remarks and Paul Cravath was all ready to deliver the goods, or rather the oration, and to discuss the power of polo as an international bond. The parties of the Josh Codens, at which the prince will be the lion, will bring Payne and Harry Payne Whitney into the foreground of the festivities. Josh, by special request, is

New York Visitor Is Honor Guest At Party Series

Miss Arline Graye, of New York, who is the attractive guest of her sister, Mrs. F. P. Rose, at her home on Dixie avenue in Inman park, will be honored by Mrs. Lewis Harralson Thursday at luncheon.

Invited to meet the honor guest are Mrs. Russell Harralson, Mrs. Joe Mangum, Mrs. Harold LeVert, Mrs. Charles Kern, Mrs. Henry LeVert, Mrs. E. L. Rose, Mrs. M. Rose and Miss Sarah Bond.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. F. P. Rose will compliment her sister with a matinee party at the Atlanta theater.

The guests will include Mrs. Russell Harralson, Mrs. Joe Mangum, Mrs. Lewis Harralson, Mrs. Charles Kern, Mrs. John W. Higgins, Mrs. Farris Rose, Mrs. Earnest Gibson, Mrs. Shreveport, La., formerly Miss Mattie Mangum, of Atlanta, and Miss Sarah Bond.

taking every precaution to give out no information.

During this hectic week, which was hot as well as hectic many interesting costumes have been seen in the Meadow Brook gathering when the prince has been present. The eye, for instance, has been attracted by Foxe Keene's new basinet-colored linen suit; by Clarence Mackay's houndstooth, which never wavers; by William Corcoran East's gray woolen suit; stockings rolled down to show his sunburned knees; by Brose Clark's Assorted tie and Jimmie Cooley's pearl grade; by the checked salmon and yellow ribbon streamers that hang from Mrs. Maxwell Stevenson's hat; by the gorgeous orange and yellow plaid silk frock worn by Marie Bird, whose feathers are always fine; by Mrs. William Russell Grace's frock, made with a baby waist and buttoned down the back from the neck to the hem; by Mrs. Oliver Bird's black dotted veil and Queen Mary hat; by Mrs. Charlie Child's new blue hat wreathed with violets as large as any that ever bloomed in the spring; by Mrs. Phil Livermore's marvelous English tweeds, and Mrs. A. Butler Duncan's unrouged cheeks and Oxford gray suit made on the London lines and topped by a black straw sailor.

At a dinner the other night, the prince was enthusiastic about the charm of Westbury. He is even interested in Mrs. Tom Hastings' chicken farm at old Westbury. Small wonder. Her hundreds upon hundreds of hens are all snow-white. But these are as nothing to the ducks he might have seen if only the Irving Brookings had stayed at home. They crossed the ocean to introduce their girls to royalty, little dreaming that royalty would soon be living within motoring distance of their duck-ponds.

Josh Codens' Party.

The parties of the Josh Codens, at which the prince will be the lion, will bring Payne and Harry Payne Whitney into the foreground of the festivities. Josh, by special request, is

BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wycocna, Wis.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so cold and miserable. I was in such misery. But after I began taking the second bottle I was feeling lots better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future."

Mrs. Ida Gammert, Wycocna, Wis.—"It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after childbirth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after childbirth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers."

Triumphant!

The Ensemble Suit

Paris decrees it!
New York accepts it!

And so we have the "ensemble" suit! A suit one minute, a frock the next! What a glorious fashion! For besides the charm of such a style it is practical withal!

—Ensemble—the French word for "together" is a costume made up of two or three parts, which are made together, but which can be worn separately.

—A popular version is the seven-eighths length, straightline coat over a straightline frock of the same shade as the coat lining! The long fur-trimmed coats are warm enough to wear in coldest weather. The frocks are beautiful enough to grace the smartest tea.

At Rich's—a kasha-finished worsted ensemble suit, lavishly fur-trimmed, is $367.50.

Others, upwards from $125.

Beautiful Home Wedding Unites Miss Audrey Burdett and Mr. Hall

The wedding of Miss Audrey Burdett and Patrick Hansell Hall was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Burdett, on Peachtree road, in the presence of the family connections and friends. Rev. Dr. F. C. McDowell, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church performed the ceremony.

The decorations were masses of pink gladioli against an effective background of palms and ferns. The improvised altar was of palms and ferns, with a pedestal vase in the center filled with pink gladioli, and on either side a candelabra with burning white tapers.

Music was rendered by Miss Helen Schaid, at the piano, and Mrs. Mary Miller Townsend, violinist, in the music room, behind a screen of palms. The wedding march was the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony McDowell's "A to a Wild Rose" was played.

Bridal Attendants.
The ribbon bearers came down the stairs and the length of the living room to the altar, using pink tulle to form an aisle for the wedding party. They were little Tillie Mae Womack and Dorothy Ann Burdett, nieces of the bride. Their dresses were of Nile green georgette crepe over flesh-colored slips, trimmed with ruffles and hand-made flowers. They wore bands of pink and green French flowers in their hair.

Miss Frances Chambers entered with Odie Stamps. Miss Sarah Elliott entered with Lawrence Burdett, brother of the bride. The bridesmaids wore gowns fashioned of Nile green georgette crepe over flesh-colored slips with pointed collars, outlined at the waist with hand-made roses. With these were worn scarfs of green georgette crepe, fastened at the right shoulder and the left wrist with a cluster of hand-made roses. Their hair was of black velvet and tulle with a rhinestone ornament in front, and their flowers were cascade bouquets of Columbia roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Lawrence McKinley, sister of the bride, wore a gown of orchid-colored georgette crepe over flesh-colored slips, with a two-toned orchid ribbon caught at the left side with hand-made flowers. Her hair was of black velvet and tulle with a rhinestone ornament in front, and her flowers were a cascade bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The ring bearer, little Miss Gail Cain, niece of the groom, wore a gown of Nile green georgette crepe over flesh-colored slips, trimmed with ruffles and hand-made flowers. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the groom and his best man.

The bride was lovely in a gown of russet-colored chiffon chemise brocade, and fashioned on straight lines with a wide band of sable at the bottom of the skirt, the sleeves were long, left open from the shoulder and caught at the wrist with a band of sable. Her hair was of velvet and tulle in russet color and she wore a sable choker. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony there was a beautiful reception.

Mrs. B. F. Burdett, the bride's mother, wore dark blue beaded crepe. She was assisted by Mrs. M. A. Hall, mother of the groom, who wore black lace; Mrs. Howell Copeland, who wore black brocade chiffon combined with satin; Miss Eunice Burdett, who was crowned in midnight blue satin, elaborately beaded in crystals, her flowers being pink rosebuds; Mrs. Walter Cain, groomed in black lace over flesh-colored chiffon, with corsage of Ophelia roses; Mrs. E. F. Womack, who wore blue embroidered crepe; Mrs. Arthur Burdett, who wore black beaded crepe; and a corsage of Columbia roses. Miss Mildred Hall kept the bride's register.

Miss Burdett is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Burdett. She graduated at Girls' High school and attended Shorter college.

Mr. Hall is the son of Mrs. Mary Agnes Hall and the late Mr. Hall. He is connected with the Southern railroad.

Wedding Trip.
After the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Asheville, and on their return will be at home in the Ridgeview apartments.

The bride wore traveling gown of penny colored charmanette with Kolinsky fur collar and from the left

Miss Buehl is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Burdett. She graduated at Girls' High school and attended Shorter college.

Mr. Hall is the son of Mrs. Mary Agnes Hall and the late Mr. Hall. He is connected with the Southern railroad.

Miss Foster Weds

Ernest L. Jackson.

The marriage Wednesday of Miss Maude Foster and Ernest L. Jackson took place at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster, on Gordon street. The Rev. Dr. F. R. Belk performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

Ernest Jackson played the wedding march and Miss Helen Bates sang.

Golden glow, arranged in baskets and vases and placed on consoles and mantels, decorated the house. Gardens of southern shrubs, palms and other growing plants completed the decorations. On either side of the improvised altar, which was arranged in the living room, and banked with ferns and palms, were pedestal vases holding yellow and white gladioli.

The first of the bridal party to enter was the junior bridesmaid, little Miss Elise Foster, niece of the bride, wearing a frock of gold net over a foundation of gold-colored satin, and trimmed with hand-made flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of tiny yellow roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Sarah McDonald, wore a full model of golden brown satin trimmed with bands of beaver-colored chenille and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses tied with blue ribbon.

Lewis E. Ellis, of Syracuse, N. Y., acted as best man.

The bride entered with her father. Her gown of brown bengaline was fashioned along straight lines. Bands of milk fur trimmed the skirt and outlined the neck line. The fullness of the long sleeves was held at the wrist with the same fur. Her cloche hat was of beaver and bengaline, golden brown in color. She carried an arm bouquet of butterfly roses showered with swansonia.

Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held.

The bride's mother was crowned in black net beaded in jet and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Miss Catherine Abbott was in charge of the bride's book, and Miss Julia Crenshaw and Miss Janie Hall presided at the punch bowl.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Guy Henly, of Syracuse, N. Y. During the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left for a cruise of the Great Lakes. After September 20 they will be at home in Cleveland, Ohio.

Inman-Mays Marriage Is Solemnized at Augusta

Augusta, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The most cordial and widespread social interest will be taken in the marriage of Miss Frank Clark Inman and Bowdrie Phinix Mays, which was solemnized tonight at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Professor Johnson and James Purnan gave a beautiful musical program penning the arrival of the bride party, selections from Bartlett, Nevin, Massenet and other famous composers were played. The historic church was elaborately decorated with Easter lilies artistically arranged in high floor vases and tall palms, which formed an exquisite background against which hundreds of candles gleamed. Music from the famous chorales of St. Paul's announced the arrival of the bride party, and the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" took up the notes as the attendants advanced to the altar.

Bridal Party.
The groomsmen, who acted as ushers, entered first and were followed by the bridesmaids. The former were Charles N. Farwell, of New Orleans; John W. Mason, of Rocky Mount; Cobb Torrance, of Atlanta; Emmett Casey, of Lynchburg; William Cozart, Stewart Walker, Purvis Boatwright, Henry Carere, Jr., John Jackson and Henry Robertson, of Augusta.

The bridesmaids, who came in two and two, were Bernice Baker, of New York; Elinor Atkins, of St. Louis; Susanne Hancock, of Charlottesville; Anne Eve, Grace Stafford, Louise Ferguson, Dorothy Merry and Julia Fargo of Augusta. The bridesmaids were beautiful in their costumes of chiffon—three in powder-blue and three in magenta. These gowns were made with the new high effect in front and low decollete in the back and with very bouffant corded skirts of round length. They were trimmed with taffeta flowers of pastel shades and the charming costumes were completed with silver girdles. Each maid carried a huge bouquet of summer flowers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Cozart, Jr., advanced to the altar alone, wearing a costume of pale green, chiffon combined with taffeta flowers and a silver girdle. Her flowers were also summer blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Edith Rambo, who came next, wore a gown made like the others, but of vivid peach chiffon trimmed with taffeta flowers, and she also carried flowers of varying hues. The three lovely little flower girls who preceded the bride, Harriet and Donald Bussey and Mary Lou Bussey, were adorable in costumes of tiny flounces of chiffon in blue and pink, edged with tiny lace.

The Bride.
The bride came in with her brother, Walker Inman, and was a vision of loveliness in her wonderful wedding gown of heavy white satin and rose point lace. The lace was applied on both skirt and long waist in rose design outlined in tiny seed pearls and brilliant with the stain cut out underneath the flowers. The court train which hung from the shoulders was also applied in the rose point and pearls and bordered in a double hem of tulle. The wedding veil of tulle was caught to the head in cap shape with a wreath of orange blossoms and her flowers were white orchids and lilies of the valley. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Donald Bussey, and the pastor, Dr. Barber, who performed the ceremony, during which "Chadwick Cassinette" was softly played.

The reception which followed at the club was a very brilliant event. The entire club was transformed into a bower of green interspersed with cut flowers and shaded electric lights. The table where the bride party of twenty-five were seated was covered with fillet lace and white satin. From the ceiling overhead was suspended a huge bride's shower bouquet of white roses from which the ribbons fell to the table and tulle streamers were caught to the four ends.

After a delicious supper was served dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Later the bride changed her wedding gown for a chic traveling costume of henna-colored gabardine trimmed with bands of grey and dull blue. With the gown and three-quarter-length coat of the same was worn a small hat of the same shade of blue. A handsome short topcoat of brown ermine was carried to be worn with this costume.

After a wedding tour to New York and other points the young couple left at home for this season at Warrenton, Va.

Mrs. L. G. Doughty, the mother of the bride, who is one of the loveliest young matrons in the state, wore an exquisite gown of white chiffon bordered in pearls and crystals over flesh-pink satin and finished in pale-pink velvet flowers. Mrs. Charles H. Phinix, grandmother of the groom, was, as usual, beautiful in a wonderful gown of orchid velvet and chiffon elaborately designed.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mays, grandson of Mrs. Charles H. Phinix, and great-grandson of the late Governor Crawford. He is a graduate of V. M. I. and is teaching now in Warrenton, Va.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. G. Doughty and the late Walker Inman, and is a graduate of Oakes, a fashionable school in New York.

Miss McIntyre Is Guest of Honor.

Miss Margaret McIntyre, who leaves next week for New York, and will study in Europe this year, was honor guest at the luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. James P. Allen at her home on East Fifteenth street.

The luncheon table was overlaid with a real lace cover, and had for the central decoration a silver basket filled with vari-colored summer flowers. Placed at intervals underneath this silver centerpiece were holding unshaded pink tapers, and alternating with silver compots filled with honeysuckle. The guest places were marked with dainty hand-painted cards, suggestive of traveling.

Mrs. Allen wore a gown of white georgette crepe. Miss McIntyre was lovely in a gown of black satin, with fall hat to match.

Hour Changed By Dr. Loveridge.
Dr. Blanche Grosche Loveridge announced 4 o'clock as the hour for the central decoration a silver basket filled with vari-colored summer flowers. Placed at intervals underneath this silver centerpiece were holding unshaded pink tapers, and alternating with silver compots filled with honeysuckle. The guest places were marked with dainty hand-painted cards, suggestive of traveling.

Mrs. Allen wore a gown of white georgette crepe. Miss McIntyre was lovely in a gown of black satin, with fall hat to match.

Church Auxiliary Plans Wedding.
The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Central View Presbyterian church will hold a Tom Thumb wedding Friday, September 5, at 7:30 o'clock.

Ice cream and cake will be sold after the wedding. Admission price for adults will be 25 cents and for children 10 cents.

Unusual Circumstances Mark Birth of Newcomers to Atlanta

Martin Shallenberger, Jr., son of Major and Mrs. M. C. Shallenberger, of Fort McPherson, and his pet canaries, Caruso and Scotti.

BY MRS. MCCORD ROBERTS.
Mr. and Mrs. Hartz Mountain Roller arrived recently from Vienna, Austria, to make their home in Atlanta, being accompanied by Martin Shallenberger, Jr., the young son of Major and Mrs. Martin Shallenberger, of Fort McPherson. Mr. and Mrs. Hartz Mountain Roller will live with the Shallenbergers in their home, at Fort McPherson, preferring people whose wide acquaintance and cosmopolitan tastes are in accord with their own.

Though German by birth this couple are thoroughly cosmopolitan in their sympathies and, like all musicians, find life agreeable wherever there is plenty of sunshine and an appreciative audience.

For Mr. Roller is one of the world's loveliest singers. Indeed, not even the immortal Caruso trilled with greater facility or poured forth more sweetly liquid notes than does Mr. Roller on occasions when spiritually moved to burst into glorious song. His voice is hereditary, voices of wide range and perfect quality being not only the prerogative of the entire Roller family living in the Hartz Mountain region—from which they derive the family name, but being a family possession of all the cantary family—of which the Rollers are one branch. Mrs. Roller is a dainty and charming spouse and like most foreign bride spouses is content to leave the spectacular side of life to Mr. Roller.

However, recently, Mrs. Roller rather performed in that way herself.

For a time decidedly overshadowed her liege lord in the interests of those acquainted with them. It happened that while in London with the Shallenbergers, awaiting the sailing of their ship for America, Mrs. Roller presented a little token of affection in the shape of a tiny, but correctly shaped egg. The pleasure expressed by the major and his family must have inspired her for barely had the boat for America got under way and well outside the British zone when Mrs. Roller handed out a second gift of a highly correct egg.

Now one might legitimately have excused Mrs. Roller from further troubling herself in the matter, but Mrs. Roller would not have it so. She insisted that a deed half performed is no deed at all, and tucking the two eggs under her downy yellow breast, she brought them with loving care across the ocean and on to the Pullman car which was headed for Atlanta.

Doubtless, Mrs. Roller originally planned to make of her children Atlanta's by birth, but as luck would have it she bestowed upon them the distinction of F. F. V. for they saw the light of day as the train sped through Virginia.

Today her offspring, Caruso and Scotti, are busily engaged in assimilating American ways, and it is expected that their yellow feathers will take on an extra sheen from their early adventures and that they will sing as they grow older, in an even more classical manner in our southern land, than they might have done in their ancestral mountains.

Defense Day Is Approved by Atlanta Federated Women

Enthusiastic endorsement was given of defense day by the members of the executive board of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs which met on Wednesday morning.

Called by the president, Mrs. T. T. Stevens, endorsement followed the reading of a telegram from general federation headquarters in Washington in which Miss Lida Hafford, director of headquarters, called attention to the action of the executive board of the general federation taken last January which declared that "while we realize that aggressive warfare is quite outside the policy of the United States, we believe that in the present tumultuous state of the world the government of this country should maintain an army and navy adequate to preserve the security and dignity of the country, such dignity and security being themselves a great contribution to international stability."

Several clubs represented declared their intention of entering floats in the defense day parade and others will furnish automobiles for the same purpose.

A particularly cordial sanction was given unanimously to a motion introduced by Mrs. B. M. Boykin expressing the high esteem felt by the organization and its members for General David Shanks who retired shortly from active direction of military affairs.

An invitation to attend a private screening of D. W. Griffith's "America" at the Howard theater this morning was extended to the executive board by the management of the theater through Mrs. Stevens and the value of this picture was stressed by the president in presenting the invitation.

Red Cross bags for American soldiers stationed in Alaska, Haiti, the Mexican border and other outposts of the United States were requested of the clubs belonging to the federation by Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield, chairman of Red Cross work for the federation. Mrs. Sommerfield asks that everyone interested communicate with her at her home, 220 Ponce de Leon avenue, Hemlock 4490.

Following the board meeting the members of the Tallulah Falls school campaign committee gathered at luncheon to report progress in the splendid work being carried forward by the federation in the interests of this remarkable institution.

Fall Bride-Elect Is Given Shower.
Miss Sue Legg was hostess at a linen shower Saturday at her home on North Jackson street in compliment to her sister, Miss Burnie Legg, a bride-elect of September.

Luncheon was served to the guests and after a musical program was enjoyed.

The guests included Miss Mae Williamson, Miss Josephine Jones, Miss Lucile Nolan, Miss Clair Harden, Miss Emmy Smith, Miss Ernestine Dempsey, Miss Irene Alley, Miss Nellie and Dorothy Orr, Miss Ven. Garrett, Miss Faut, Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Gress.

Business League To Meet at Church.
The September meeting of the Business Women's league of the Second Baptist church, will be held as usual in the main auditorium on the coming Sunday, the 7th, at 4 o'clock.

The meeting will be in charge of Circle C, Miss Margaret Henley, chairman, and Circle II, Miss Elise Kuetner, chairman. A short but interesting program has been arranged.

Miss Parker Weds Dr. Turner At St. Mark's Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Margaret Emogene Parker to Dr. Malcolm Turner, Jr., was an event of social interest and took place Wednesday at high noon at St. Mark's Methodist church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Mitchell, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

Elaborate decorations of palms, ferns and large baskets filled with pink roses were attractively used as decorations throughout the church. The altar and choir loft were banded with stately palms and ferns, which formed a massive background of greenery for cathedral candelabra with white burning tapers, interspersed with Trilby baskets filled with roses. The pews reserved for the families were marked with sprays of roses tied with white satin ribbon.

A brilliant program of nuptial music was rendered, the bridal chorus from Lohengrin being played for the entrance of the bridal party, and Mendelssohn's wedding march was played for the recessional.

Bridal Party.
Miss Ruth Hughes was the bridesmaid and wore a gown of black satin elaborately embroidered with rose predominating. Her hat was a French model of black velvet faced with rose, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

Little Miss Helen Parker, niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid, and wore a dainty frock of Alice blue georgette crepe, trimmed with lace. Her small hat was of black velvet, lined with blue, and her flowers were sweetpeas and roses in an old-fashioned nosegay.

Miss Catherine Parker was her sister's maid of honor and wore a gown of black satin trimmed with old blue georgette crepe, trimmed with lace. She wore a large black velvet hat, faced with blue, and trimmed with black and silver lace. Her flowers were Killarney roses in a cascade bouquet.

Shepherd Hall and Harvey McCord acted as ushers and George Wade acted as best man.

The lovely bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Parker, and she was radiantly lovely in a gown of black velvet faced with a wide panel down the front of beige crepe. There was a becoming collar

Miss McLean Weds Clifford L. Near, Jr.
The wedding is announced of Miss Banny Stewart McLean and Clifford L. Near, Jr., of Baltimore, on Monday evening, August 25, at Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Epiphany by the rector, Rev. R. L. Wolcott, in the presence of relatives and friends. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Near will make their home in Philadelphia, where Mr. Near has accepted a position on the editorial staff of the Public Ledger.

Mrs. Near is the daughter of Robert McLean, who is now living in London, and to whom his daughter recently returned from an extended visit. She has three brothers living in Baltimore, R. Pinkney H. McLean, Robert McLean, Jr., and A. Henderson McLean.

Mr. Near, who has been a resident of Baltimore for more than two years, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Near, of Atlanta, and the brother of Miss Arlette D. Near, Washington, D. C., and Miss Janie L. Near, of Atlanta.

The marriage was attended by Robert McLean, Jr., brother of the bride, and her uncle, Harold McLean, both of Baltimore; Miss Aradia Near, of Washington, D. C., and Atlanta, sister of the groom, and numerous friends. After the ceremony the young couple left on a short trip to points in the east.

of cream lace wired in the back, and coming down both sides in front and caught with dainty bronze buckles. She wore a most becoming small hat in shades of cocoa brown trimmed in uncurled ostrich on one side and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies, showered with valley lilies.

Mrs. Robert Parker, Sr., mother of the bride, wore a gown of midnight blue satin-lace crepe, and her hat was of dark blue velvet and silver. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Malcolm Turner, mother of the groom, was gowned in black satin trimmed in henna and wore a black and henna hat. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses.

Mrs. Robert Parker, sister of the bride, wore a black satin gown with touches of red and a black satin hat. Mrs. W. L. Hilton, sister of the bride, was gowned in black beaded georgette crepe over black satin and her hat was of black velvet.

Dr. and Mrs. Turner left for a motor trip through Florida, and a visit to Cuba. On their return they will be at home at their apartment on Penn avenue.

He'll Answer Your Questions, Somehow.

If you're in doubt on etiquette, Or if you argue over a bet, If love pang make you melancholy, Just write and tell your grief to Wally.

Still Unsettled.

Dear Wally:
Tell me, is it right
To kiss a gentleman good night?
I'll do whichever way you say.
Yours very truly,
ETHEL MAY.

Dear Ethel:
On this mooted point
Authorities are of joint.
Some praise the custom, some deride;
So let your conscience be your guide.

Pass the Buck.

Dear Wally:
A boy friend of mine
Has asked me out with him to dine.
I cannot read a French menu.
What shall I do?
Yours, IMA SKEW.

Dear Ima:
Do not worry, dear.
When George, the waiter, wanders near,
This on your escort you may spring:
"You order for us both, Old Thing."

Making Sure.

Stella: "Annie Belle must be dreadfully in love with her husband. She phones his office at least ten times every day."
Grace: "That doesn't sound like being in love, dear. I think she's suspicious."
—Mrs. Sydney Kuhn.

Good Enough.

Mrs. Blackstone: "Does your husband understand you, my dear?"
Mrs. Webster: "I think he's beginning to. He increased my allowance last week."
—Frank Conrad.

Sitting Up With a Friend.

The convivial Black was getting in at three in the morning, when his wife asked him where he had been.
"Been sitting up all night with a friend," explained Black in return.
"Rather gloomy affair, wasn't it?" pointedly commented his wife.
"Not at all, dear," said Black, with a suspicion of a hiccup. "He and I sat up together."

Gentlemen:
Please send me by messenger the following:
7 boxes of rosin,
1 G string,
1 chin-rest.

The fiddle I bought from you is a "peacen" and also those latest dance numbers. Send me a bunch of music, too, if you have any more late stuff. Please don't include "Yes, We Have No Bananas," as you sent that number to me five different times before. If you do I'll burn Rome, and I'm not joking, either.
Truly yours, NERO.

Dear Blackboard:
Yo, Ho, Ho, old timer! I haven't seen your dear old skull and crossbones for a long time, and hope that all is well with you. I have three ships now, and by the way, I wonder if you will join me in a little venture this fall.
We've been pikers, old dark whiskers! We've been a disgrace to Davy Jones' ancient order of pirates! Here's what we are going to do in a nutshell: In the future we will lay off these merchant ships, and will make our headquarters in Havana. I know where we can buy 8,045 cases of rum for 1,205 pieces of eight. We'll bring the stuff to the states and our fortune will be made! What say? Drop me a line, matey. As ever, your old skipper,

Trooper O'Neill

BY GEORGE GOODCHILD

Then there was Antoine was was frozen in the great blizzard whilst returning from Red river—but last year, and little Lucille who died of consumption the previous winter. Thus of the eight children of Armand, strange but three remained. These recurring tragedies had left their mark on the heart of Marie. But her temperament reflected the changing moods of nature, as alternately fierce and merciless, proud and impassive, gay and compassionate, as the changing seasons themselves.
Paul, too, was of her own disposition, quick to anger but equally quick to forgive and forget. Pierre was totally different—a brooding man to whom the quality of mercy was unknown, and who let his hate overleap his reason. Marie knew that Pierre would have killed the squatting trooper of the police with no more compunction that he had in shooting a badger. Moreover Pierre hated the English.
"If he find out much I—" he growled.
Marie laid her hand on his arm, and regarded him whimsically.
"Let us forget."
"Tch! I tell you, you make too light of this policeman," retorted Pierre savagely. "You laugh—but you will not laugh if he discover that the one he seeks is in this house."

Marie turned pale, and Paul quickly took her in his arms, and glanced at his brother.
"Enough!" he cried. "When that day come we shall be ready."
"When that day come I shall keep him," said Pierre, and sat down again, relapsing into a sullen silence.

In the meantime O'Neill had made himself acquainted with the colony—or camp, for it was scarcely more despite its dimensions. Everyone spoke English—likewise everyone spoke French.

The "street" boasted a postoffice and a hotel—the latter a quaint combination of cafe, dance hall and general meeting house. It bore the name of "The Stars" probably from motives of patriotism on the part of its proprietor, who hailed from Hoboken, but nevertheless ran his house in Christian-like fashion, keeping his ample stocks of whisky and rum well concealed.

It was to this queer individual, Hank Fenley, that O'Neill went with a view to engaging a room, but after examining the only room that Fenley had to spare, he came to the conclusion that a tent under the free heavens was infinitely preferable. He accordingly took Rodd's tent, and left that worthy to take up his abode in the derelict hut, which arrangement appeared to suit Rodd very well.

The next day found O'Neill quartered on the fringe of the woods above the colony. It was a picturesque spot, affording a view of the river on one hand and of St. Claire, nestling in a kind of cup, on the other. He decided to spend the afternoon in laying in a store of wood and set off with the axe.

For two hours he worked among the pines, the ringing noise of the axe echoing through the woodland, bringing showers of snow from the upper branches—fine powdery stuff without an atom of the moisture that makes snow so unpleasant down east.

He was surveying the results of his labor when a slight noise came to his ears. He peered through the trees and saw a brown shaggy form in the near distance. It moved round a tree and was lost to view. He hesitated for a moment and then ran towards camp, and came back with his rifle; cautiously he made his way in the direction of the bear. He found the tree eventually, and a mass of foot-marks. A stick suddenly cracked within a few yards of him, and he stood stock still in the shelter of a huge pine and waited. The soft "pad-pad" came nearer, and he saw the breath coming like steam from the creature's mouth. Two seconds later it came to view, its big head rolling curiously from side to side.

It was almost on him when he raised the rifle.

"Stop!" He started at the very moment of pulling the trigger, and beheld, to his amazement, a small hand reach out from the right paw and swiftly push back the ferocious muzzle, to expose the flushed face of a dark and beautiful girl, who stared at him, and then smiled.

"You think I was the bear?" she said.
"Great Scott! I nearly shot you," gasped O'Neill. "Why do you masquerade like that?"

"There is a bear here. He comes here every day. He is so awful nobody get near him. My brother Paul he laugh and say no one ever get that bear. Then I sink I try lak' dis. He come to see dis order bear. Then you speak and he go. You spoil it all, yes."

The music of her voice with its quaint French accent, and the soft light in her dark eyes held O'Neill spellbound. Even now she did not appear to realize how near death she had been. She began to remove the rest of the skin, displaying a supple, sinuous form, clad in short coney coat, leggings and moccasins.

"How were you going to kill the bear?" queried O'Neill.

She walked to the tree behind which he had stood, and picked up a rifle from the other side of it.

"I was just going to get dis when I see you," she explained. "But what you do hers? I neavire see you before."

"I was gathering wood—my camp is lower down—do you come from St. Claire?"

"Yes. My name is Marie—Marie Lestrang. My brothers live there too, and my father—but he is now gone to Quebec—ah, m'sieur, why did you try to shoot me? Two minutes, I should have got that bear, yes."

O'Neill shook his head and smiled. "Perhaps it was as well. Bears are awkward customers to deal with. Particularly where ladies are concerned."

Marie's eyes flashed, as she took this as a reflection upon her hunting ability.

"You are lak' all men—you tink a girl can do nussing. Oh, but I shall show you some order day."

She put the bearskin down by the tree and heaped some snow over it. "Now I go home," she said. "You come this way, too?"

"Yes, m'demoiselle—"

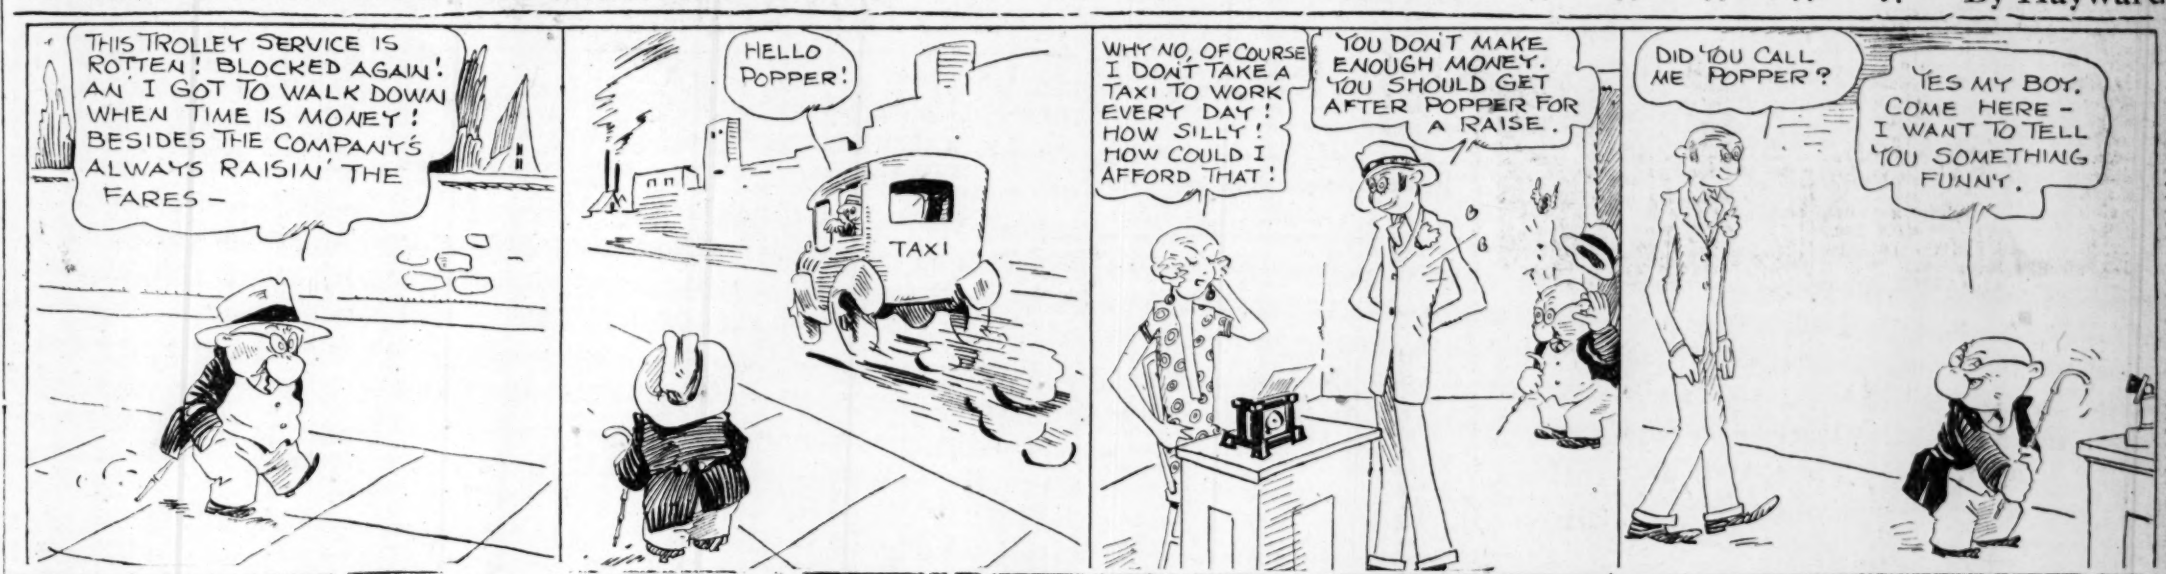

"Mademoiselle—it sound so funny. Everyone here call me Marie."

They had reached the camp, and O'Neill flung down the axe.

"I must have read it somewhere," he said. "Now can I offer you some tea, Miss—Marie? See, the water is boiling, and I have good tea."

Case 101 August

Profit taking in United States steel and American can early in the year with another 3-point break in Colorado Fuel brought about weakness in Crucible, Davidson Chemical, Bones Tea and a number of others. In the railroad list there was some show of strength, gains of from 1 to 3 points occurring in M. K. & T., preferred, Norfolk and Western.

ret Kluge common. Those in Wall Street whose opinions are most highly valued, however, are not so sure. The chief reason for the crash, they believe, has not been reached. But it is agreed that there may be a rest in the spell around the present level. The real cause of the advance that occurred in the stock market beginning in the first half of the year, they say, was the low rates for the time being at least are now higher. In well-informed banking circles it was stated yesterday that the German loan would be floated in the immediate future. Probably not before October. While the rate of improving the improvement is slow.

Colorado Fuel began to advance

Encouraging reports from the loan committee and the market today from the Iron Age, which stated that the expected improvement in August had materialized. Subscriptions craved for the $30,000,000 Belgian loan of 1914 reached over $20,000,000. Allotments averaging 25 per cent for the first time in the small investment market. This is the usual practice of bankers floating new securities when there is a large over-subscription. The small investors pays for the income return and does

PERUVIAN STOCKS LARGER THIS YEAR

Washington, September 3.—Stocks of Peruvian stocks held by and route to factors, dealers and jobbers, but not consumers, at the primary ports and the important distributing points of the country at the of the naval stores season. March was considerably larger this year than last year. Statistics of the annual canvass of the stocks made by the bureau of chemistry and announced recently by the department of agriculture, show stocks of turpentine to be 55,899 casks of 50 gallons each, compared with 30,798 casks on same date a year ago, and 351,970 casks of rosin, compared with 334,000. These stocks were held as follows:

Stocks	1910	1909
Southern primary ports	29,982	15,982

els of turpentine and 307,543 barrels of rosin; eastern ports, 3,439 barrels of turpentine and 14,000 barrels of rosin; central district ports, 32 casks of turpentine and 28,881 casks of rosin, and western ports, 6 casks of turpentine and 1,492 casks of rosin.

"The Ten Commandments." (At the Atlanta.)

The very great success that may be achieved by a really fine moving picture, presented in a thoroughly art istic manner, is demonstrated by the remarkable picture of Cecil B. DeMille's dramatic spectacle, "The Ten Commandments," now being shown twice daily at the Atlanta Theater.

The reason for this notable success of "The Ten Commandments" both here and elsewhere is simply that the film carries a story of very wide appeal, set forth in the most spectacular fashion of which the cinema art is capable, and that it is presented with the greatest care and with every possible adjunct to enhance the enjoyment of the spectator. To see "The Ten Commandments," and to hear the fine orchestral score performed by a group of twenty skilled musicians, is to enjoy motion picture presentation at its best. The picture will positively not be shown elsewhere in this city during the present season.

"Mrs. Wiggs" Draws Crowd. (At the Lyric.)

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," standard American comedy for 21 years, is drawing the biggest crowds to the Lyric theater this week. The reason for this is the most spectacular fashion of which the cinema art is capable, and that it is presented with the greatest care and with every possible adjunct to enhance the enjoyment of the spectator. To see "The Ten Commandments," and to hear the fine orchestral score performed by a group of twenty skilled musicians, is to enjoy motion picture presentation at its best. The picture will positively not be shown elsewhere in this city during the present season.

Some good seats are still available for this afternoon and tonight's performances.

Keith's Forsyth. (At the Forsyth.)

Cecil Cunningham, a comparatively new star in vaudeville, but one which nevertheless shines brilliantly, will grace the stage at Keith's Forsyth the next three days of this week as headliner.

The program also includes K. T. Kuna and company, an organization of Oriental wonder workers; Guy P. Sampel and Billy Leonard, musical comedy favorites; Stanley and Nelson offer some sharp satire and wit; Billy Newkirk and the "Popolys" have a fast turn of songs and steps in "Popology."

Vaudeville and Pictures. (At the Grand.)

Marshall Montgomery, vaudeville's greatest ventriloquist, is the big feature at Low's Grand theater this week with a most unusual exhibition of ventriloquism. The Yong Wong troupe, the first Chinese vaudeville troupe to appear in Atlanta, will give a marvelous demonstration of athletic feats. "Revelation" is the feature picture.

PRICES: Nights, 50c to $1.50. Matinees, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

BIBB CANDIDATES ANSWER QUESTIONS OF WOMEN VOTERS

Macon, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Samuel Rutherford, of Forsyth, candidate for congress from the sixth district, and Tom W. Butler and A. W. Graves, candidates for representative from Bibb county, were the only three candidates for office in the county and district primary, September 10, who failed to send answers or appear in person to reply to the questionnaire sent out by the Macon League of Women Voters.

The league met this afternoon, formal replies from the candidates being read and J. F. Malone, candidate for the legislature, appeared in person in his own behalf.

All candidates answering the questionnaire, denied membership in the Ku Klux Klan. Mrs. Viola Ross, vapid, candidate for the legislature, was the only candidate to favor a change in the prohibition laws. She said she favors more stringent laws and would make a second conviction a violation of the law a change in conviction.

B. J. Fowler, candidate for congress, in answering the question as to whether he favors entering the League of Nations, said he is a democrat, running on a democratic platform, and that he favors the views of John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, in the matter of foreign relations.

TOBACCO CROWDS GEORGIA MARKETS; HIGH PRICE HOLDS

Nashville, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Two hundred and twenty-one thousand pounds of tobacco were sold here today at a general average of 24.25 cents per pound. The Nashville market will close September 10.

Today's sale will result in a total of 1,000,000 pounds for this market. Tobacco keeps coming in with a rush both night and day, and seems more like the beginning of the season than the close, warehouse managers say.

FITZGERALD GETS 47 CENTS A POUND.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The highest price paid for tobacco here today was 47 cents a pound. M. H. Hutchinson, of Ben Hill, received the $10 premium for highest price received. Thirty thousand pounds were sold today, at an average price of 20 cents, most of tobacco being poor quality.

BLACKSHEAR STRIKES 26-CENT AVERAGE.

Blackshear, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The Blackshear market was crowded with tobacco again today. Thirty thousand pounds were sold, and prices continued to be good for the grades of tobacco offered and a 26-cent average was maintained.

Colleen Moore. (At the Metropolitan.)

A play within a play, and both with a picture.

That is the unusual background of First National's "Flirting With Love," co-starring Colleen Moore and Conway Tearle. This week the Metropolitan. As usual, Colleen has the whole picture to carry and does it in a most delightful way. Enrico Leide's music is perfectly scored.

"The Covered Wagon." (At the Rialto.)

The love story, in its proper perspective, makes "The Covered Wagon," which is showing at the Rialto theater this week, a packed house, the most romantic picture to date.

WHEELER SPEAKS THRICE IN DAY

Manchester, N. H., September 3.—Touring by automobile through New England, Senator Wheeler, vice presidential candidate on the La Follette ticket, wedged in today three public appearances at an open-air gathering in Lowell, Mass., and a banquet mass meeting in the city.

"The farmers and laborers of the northwest picked out the man who were for them," he said, "and then went out and got them nominated and elected—Senator Shipstead, in Minnesota, Senator Brookhart in Iowa, and Senator La Follette in Wisconsin. If you don't like the kind of government you have you can do the same thing. You get exactly the kind of government you deserve."

The audience cheered the mention of La Follette. Speaking of the finding of the senate investigation into former Attorney General Daugherty's administration and linking up the mention with charges of corruption against the republican administration, Mr. Wheeler said: "When I had the temerity to protest against the corruption, President Coolidge's officers indicted me in Montana. President Coolidge was the man who said the other day he wanted to see American standards of living kept up and that was the same Coolidge who vetoed the bill to increase the wages of postal workers and the bill to give adjusted compensation to soldiers who fought the war."

Leopold Plans Return to Earth From 'Other World'

Chicago, September 3.—The last will and testament of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., joint confessor with Richard Loeb of the kidnaping and murder of Bobby Franks, has been made public. That Leopold contemplates the possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of Judge Caverly, who now has the murder case under consideration, is evidenced by a letter he has mailed to Clarence S. Darrow, defense counsel.

The letter bequeaths to the Field Museum first choice of any five objects in Leopold's ornithological collection. Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose of any three articles after the museum has made its selection.

Third, the museum is given its choice of any of Leopold's birds, minerals or transcripts. In the letter Leopold asked Darrow to notify the beneficiaries as soon as possible and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing arguments. Leopold wrote that he had been content to die before he heard that argument, but that after hearing it he was wanted to live. The last will was scratched out under a county jail are light on paper supplied by the jailer. Leopold also had completed plans for attempts to pierce the veil shrouding death, if he is hanged. Although he is an admitted atheist, he says he will not cast out any suggestion of the possibility of an after life until he has had an opportunity to demonstrate its invalidity. So he has prepared ten questions which he plans to attempt to answer by communicating with friends on earth should he die on the gallows. The questions are:

"Are the experiences of human life carried into the hereafter?" "Is the intellectual or the spiritual the dominant note after death?" "Is the absence of the physical being an advantage or a detriment to such intellectual or spiritual happiness?" "Is the hereafter dimensional as on earth, or is there complete omniscience?" "Does one retain reactions to sensations registered on the mind previous to death?" "Is life on earth a necessary precedent to life hereafter? If so how long a life?"

Plans to Make Speech. "If the intellectual is dominant in the hereafter, is earthly knowledge adequate or insufficient to its employment?" "Is life on earth a correct balance of rewards and penalties, or is there a higher judgment?" "If life hereafter is spiritual, are the cultural experiences on earth necessary? What of the savage mind?" "What is happiness?" "If Leopold plans to make a speech if he is sent to the gallows. "And I will say something that will make the world listen," he added. Loeb, who has no such philosophy, admits he has no liking for a life in prison. "When I think of the long life down there, I sometimes feel that it would be better to get it all over with now," he said.

WINANS TO INSPECT FT. SCREVEN INFANTRY

Savannah, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—General Edwin B. Winans, commanding the eighth infantry brigade, U. S. army and also representing General David Shanks, of Atlanta, with his staff, arrived here today and proceeded to Fort Screven, Tybee island, to inspect the eighth infantry stationed there. Major Lathrop B. Clappman and First Lieutenant Hugh C. Parker accompanied General Winans.

More than 50 leading workers of the organization, representing eight southern states, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia, are in attendance and general problems of Red Cross activities for the principal topics for discussion. Meetings are being held at southern division headquarters on Ivy street.

DRY AGENT RUNS
AMUCK AT MIAMI;
PEDESTRIANS FLEE Miami, Fla., September 3.—Herbert W. Venters, a prohibition agent running amuck at 1 o'clock this morning, was charged with the murder of a pedestrian on Flagler street and caused employees of the Western Union telegraph office to duck for shelter under tables. In police court this morning Venters was fined $25 and costs or 30 days, and in the absence of money, was placed in jail. It was stated by those in charge of the federal prohibition forces that a telegram had been received from Tampa asking that Venters be kept in custody until he could be taken to the choice of getting out of the service or being put out. Venters is the same man who, with another prohibition agent, was beaten up by a crowd at Miami Beach several weeks ago, in which incident conflicting claims were made as to who started the trouble.

DR. CARMICHAEL DIES
AT FREDERICKSBURG

Fredricksburg, Va., September 3.—Dr. Randolph Bryan Carmichael, 55, Washington skin specialist, died here today. The specialist had been ill in Washington and was brought to the family home here Friday. On Saturday he suffered a stroke of paralysis. A Fredericksburg physician and three Washington specialists attended him. Dr. Carmichael formerly practiced in New York. Later he went to Washington, where he became recognized as a leader in his branch of medical science. He was a member of several medical fraternities. Dr. Carmichael was a son of Dr. Spotswood Welford Carmichael and Fannie Tucker Bryan Carmichael. He is survived by one brother and two sisters.

COURT ASKED TO RULE ON CANADIAN SUGAR

Washington, September 3.—The supreme court was asked today to decide whether sugar produced in Cuba and partly refined in Canada causes to be the product of Cuba within the meaning of 1902 granting to the importation of 20 per cent reduction in the regular American duty. In a petition for writ of certiorari, counsel of Ernest E. Marks company asks the court to review the judgment of the United States court of customs appeals, which held that such sugar was not entitled to the reduced duty. The sugar was entered at Chicago from Canada.

JOHN DAVIS STRESSES NEED OF ORGANIZATION

Chicago, September 3.—Need for organization was emphasized by John W. Davis in an informal talk tonight to about 200 democratic leaders of Chicago, headed by George E. Brennan, democratic national committee man, whom the presidential nominee met at democratic headquarters.

"There is always a fighting unit in every party and without that fighting unit we do not get anywhere," Mr. Davis said in response to the greeting accorded him. "Unfortunately, the democracy does not function automatically. It must be brought to the polls. It must be organized. Conventions may plan and candidates may water, but it is the organization that give the increase, and I am looking very confidently to that increase. Cook county and the state of Illinois this year."

Mr. Davis told the democratic leaders that he had two purposes in coming to Chicago to spend four days without any speechmaking: first, to Mississippi section regarding the agricultural leaders he plans to make Saturday in Omaha, and second to make as many acquaintances as possible in Chicago.

"I want to feel that in this part of the country I am not a mere abstraction, but a human being, and I may add, a human being in search of an office," Mr. Davis concluded.

RED CROSS WORKERS CONFER IN ATLANTA

The annual fall conference of southern division Red Cross workers got under way here Wednesday morning, with both morning and afternoon sessions being held. A dinner at the Cecil hotel at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night completed the first day's program, and the final session of the conference comes late this afternoon.

More than 50 leading workers of the organization, representing eight southern states, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia, are in attendance and general problems of Red Cross activities for the principal topics for discussion. Meetings are being held at southern division headquarters on Ivy street.

DRY AGENT RUNS
AMUCK AT MIAMI;
PEDESTRIANS FLEE

Miami, Fla., September 3.—Herbert W. Venters, a prohibition agent running amuck at 1 o'clock this morning, was charged with the murder of a pedestrian on Flagler street and caused employees of the Western Union telegraph office to duck for shelter under tables. In police court this morning Venters was fined $25 and costs or 30 days, and in the absence of money, was placed in jail. It was stated by those in charge of the federal prohibition forces that a telegram had been received from Tampa asking that Venters be kept in custody until he could be taken to the choice of getting out of the service or being put out. Venters is the same man who, with another prohibition agent, was beaten up by a crowd at Miami Beach several weeks ago, in which incident conflicting claims were made as to who started the trouble.

DR. CARMICHAEL DIES
AT FREDERICKSBURG

Fredricksburg, Va., September 3.—Dr. Randolph Bryan Carmichael, 55, Washington skin specialist, died here today. The specialist had been ill in Washington and was brought to the family home here Friday. On Saturday he suffered a stroke of paralysis. A Fredericksburg physician and three Washington specialists attended him. Dr. Carmichael formerly practiced in New York. Later he went to Washington, where he became recognized as a leader in his branch of medical science. He was a member of several medical fraternities. Dr. Carmichael was a son of Dr. Spotswood Welford Carmichael and Fannie Tucker Bryan Carmichael. He is survived by one brother and two sisters.

COURT ASKED TO RULE ON CANADIAN SUGAR

Washington, September 3.—The supreme court was asked today to decide whether sugar produced in Cuba and partly refined in Canada causes to be the product of Cuba within the meaning of 1902 granting to the importation of 20 per cent reduction in the regular American duty. In a petition for writ of certiorari, counsel of Ernest E. Marks company asks the court to review the judgment of the United States court of customs appeals, which held that such sugar was not entitled to the reduced duty. The sugar was entered at Chicago from Canada.

Court Practice In Liquor Fines Scored by Haynes

Washington, September 3.—Liquor conditions in Washington, referred to in the jibes of the skeptical as the wettest spot in the country, are caused chiefly, as in some other sections, by failure of the courts to go the full limit of the law in imposing penalties. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes declared today. Asserting the penalties imposed were not severe enough to discourage bootleggers, Mr. Haynes added:

"Nominal fines are simply an extra legal form of license that is cheaper than the old saloon license." "The democratic party emphatically condemns and denounces what is known as the invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan as an undemocratic, un-Christian and un-American organization. We brand its activities in politics and elsewhere as against the fundamental principles upon which the government was founded. We call upon all those who have joined this dangerous order, through mistake as to its real purposes, to withdraw from the same and lend their aid and influence to free the country from the strife and trouble which this insidious clique has aroused among the people. We demand the passage of law requiring the public registration of membership of all secret organizations, and the wearing of masks and disguises in public or private places."

JACKSONVILLE OFFICER, SHOT BY NEGRO, DIES

Jacksonville, Fla., September 3.—Motorcycle Policeman W. J. Kelly died from the effects of wounds sustained Monday when he was shot by a negro gunman while raiding a disorderly house.

E. R. Baker and P. O. Westover, also at the hospital with wounds suffered as they carried Kelly away from the scene, where he was wounded, were being held and it is thought they will both live.

This will shooting that resulted in the wounding of the three men also caused the wounding of three negroes. Besides the two previously reported by police to have been wounded they found another, Theodore Parker, late yesterday, who was shot in the right shoulder. All of the negroes are expected to recover.

The discovery that Parker had been wounded explains the blood found on the rear steps of the house where he lived and where the shooting occurred, police said today.

With Mary Edmond, negro, who Kelly is reported to have told police was the one who first shot him, in custody, and an even score of other negroes held as material witnesses, authorities today are continuing their search for two more negroes believed to have fired two other guns during the shooting.

MRS. HAMON GORMAN SUES FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles, September 3.—Clara Smith Hamon Gorman, who before her marriage to John W. Gorman, motion picture producer, was tried on a charge of murdering Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil magnate and politician, has filed suit for divorce charging cruelty and likewise a law denying the acquittal of the murder charge in 1920 Mrs. Hamon came here to enter motion pictures. It was while entering pictures that she met John W. Gorman and became acquainted.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS ADOPT KLAN PLANK

Austin, Texas, September 3.—A platform denouncing the Ku Klux Klan by name and demanding lower taxes and more economy in state government, was adopted by the democratic state convention today after slight changes in the draft presented by former Governor James E. Ferguson had been made by the platform committee.

The committee eliminated the word "treason" as applied to the activities of the Klan, gave a stronger endorsement to the administration of Governor Neff than was contained in the original draft and inserted a plank for expedition of court procedure.

The plank on the Klan read: "The democratic party emphatically condemns and denounces what is known as the invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan as an undemocratic, un-Christian and un-American organization. We brand its activities in politics and elsewhere as against the fundamental principles upon which the government was founded.
